

MARRIAGE TOOK PLACE IN CHARLOTTE

Mrs. John Spach Creech, prior to her marriage Thursday afternoon in the Queen City, was Miss Cortlandt Preston. Both are from here and will make their home in Winston-Salem.

MOMENTS IN THE LIVES OF FRESHMAN

Moment I

Junior: See here Freshie, we're new here—just got in today and we'd like to know all about Salem. Since you've been here a week couldn't you tip us off?

Freshman: Oh, it's grand. Have you met Miss Lawrence? She's one of the deans — and she's swell. Oh, you've missed a lot by not coming early. What course are you taking?

Junior: Oh, I haven't decided yet. Maybe something with a little English in it. You see, I come all of a sudden.

Freshman: I see. Well, are you taking Math? It's so hard. How much did you have in High School.

Junior: Oh, only about three months.

Freshie: Gee, you'll never pass. You will like Mr. Curlee, he is so nice.

Junior: Yes — I'm looking forward to meeting him. Is Mrs. D— I mean the English teacher — Is she hard?

Freshie: Well, you have to be pretty smart to get anywhere. I like her a lot.

Junior: I know I will too. Tell me how many dates can you have?

Freshie: Oh, any night in the week.

Only I don't know anyone in town. Do you?

Junior: Oh, no, I just got here.

Freshie: How did you get in so late?

Junior: Oh, I just have pull. Well, I have to go unpack. By the way, I'm no Freshie. I'm a Junior.

Freshie: Wh— why you —

Junior: Gee, but you're a good sport.

Later

Junior: Say, you'd better be good to meor this will get in the Sale- mite.

Freshie: What are you on the staff.

Junior: I'm a secret spy. I go around and find out nasty things about people and print it.

Freshie: Oh, Honestly? Oh, how horrible. Is that all you do?

(At this point the Junior quietly slipped away before she was tempted to tell the girl she was Mrs. Rondthaler).

On Tuesday night, September 21, from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock, Reverend and Mrs. Gordon Spaugh entertained the faculties of Salem College and Academy with a reception at their home. Delicious punch and cookies were served to practically all of both faculties. Miss Lawrence poured punch, assisted by Misses McAnally, Blair and Turlington.

Teacher: Tell the class something about Col. Lindbergh's great feat.
Student: I never saw them, but I can tell about Charlie Chaplin's.

Janie: You say John is a reckless driver.

Martha: Yeah! Boy, when the road turns the same way he does, it's just a coincidence.

Believe it or not, but the rising generation is hard to get out of bed.

He: Do you remember that night I kissed you and said I would love you always.

She: Yes, dear.

He: I was afraid you would.

MISS PRESTON BECOMES BRIDE OF JOHN CREECH

Charles Creech, Jr., Miss Mary Creech, Miss Margaret McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Garrett, John Foster, William Coan, III, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Rondthaler, Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Spaugh, all of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Thomas Alexander, Misses Alice Alexander and Betsy Tate and Lindsay Tate of Charlotte.

Mr. Holder: In which of his battles was Alexander the Great killed?
Mary McColl: Er-um-er — I think it was his last.

Singer: I insured my voice for $100,000.

Rival: And what have you done with the money?

Dentist: You needn't open your mouth any wider. When I pull your tooth I expect to stand outside.

Squire: Did you call me, my lord?
Lancelot: Yes, make haste. Bring the can-opener. I have a flea in my knight clothes.
