

Class Of 1945 Is Scattered

From Molly Boseman comes this interesting account of 1945:

"As you make your debut in the columns of the Salemite and Alumnae Record, we find you scattered throughout several states.

"A report on those in the state of matrimony includes: Mildred Garrison Cash, who is in Memphis, Tenn. with Lt. Paul of the Air Transport Command . . . Emily Harris Amburgey and Lt. Tom have a house in Magnolia Springs, Ala. . . Norma Rhodes became Mrs. Francis Dickson in August in Winston-Salem . . . Peggy Nimmo Haigh has an apartment in Princeton, N. J., where Phil is instructing at the University.

"Fourteen are teaching. Down in Vero Beach, Florida are Mary Ellen Byrd and Luanne Davis, and Marie Griffin is at Sarasota. Back in the Winston schools are Peggy Bollin, Frances Crowell, and Hazel Watts. Dorothy Kiser is teaching in Forsyth County. Nell Denning has a third grade in Albemarle; Helen Phillips is in Asheboro; Mamie Herring teaches kindergarten in the morning and keeps books in the afternoon; Betty Jean Jones teaches home economics in Leaksville and has helped in giving a banquet. After a summer in Minnesota, Marguerite Mullin has settled down to teaching English in the Tazewell, Va. High School. Mary Lou Langhorne ex-'45 has a fifth grade in Norfolk.

Many Varied Careers

"Mary Lucy Baynes is continuing her dietetic training at Cook County Hospital and is delighted with Chicago. Angela Taylor is taking similar work at Charlotte Memorial Hospital. Lib Beckwith has a job with the testing lab of Celanese Corporation. Molly Boseman is music registrar at the YWCA in Washington. Genevieve Frasier and Dodie Bayley applied to Red Cross for jobs, but we do not know the outcome. Betty Grantham interspersed her clerical work this summer with trips to Tennessee, Baltimore, and the beach. Elizabeth Gudger is with the Asheville Redistribution Center at present. Nancy Helsabeek is working for Dr. Harrell (research work at Bowman Gray) and studying medical technology. Frances Jones has a government job in Kinston until December. Mary Frances McNeely is interviewing viewing farmers around Mooresville, we hear. Josephine McLaughlin has a position as "Minister of Music" at a Presbyterian Church in Burlington. Nancy Moss is keeping house for her father, since her younger sister is at Salem. Lucille Newman is now applying her artistic talents to Sosnik's ads.

"Kathleen Phillips is enrolled in the textile course at State College, Raleigh. We hear that Rachel Pinkston plans to do welfare work in Whiteville later. Ann Sauls is in the office of Belk's Department Store, Charlotte.

Stovall Now In Maryland

"After boot training in New York, S 2/C Edith Stovall is doing statistical work at the Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Maryland. Alice Stevens plans to do graduate work in New York.

"News of the ex-members: Margaret Bullock is studying at Chapel Hill, we understand. Laura Hine, Hazel Newman Slaughter and Betty Withers are continuing work at Salem. Jane Strohm Patton was planning to enter Butler University in Indianapolis, unless her husband returned from the Pacific. Marriages which have not been reported among the ex-members are: Betty Jean Black to Capt. Charles W. Byrd; Nancy Lewis to Garlan Pendergraft; Yvonne Phelps to Easton R. Caldwell, Jr.; Mary Kathryn Wolff to Dr. Henry Sperry Nelson; Harriet Sutton to Henry Grady Cochran, and Jane Strohm to John W. Patton."

Three new secretaries have been added to the staff. In Miss Hixson's office is Mrs. Ramona Rodgers. Mrs. Charles Anglin is secretary to Miss Kirkland, and in the business office

Former Student Sings With Opera

When the telephone rang and I heard a melodious voice say, "Did someone here call Jane Frazier?", I knew a bit of North Carolina was speaking.

Yes, this was Jane Frazier, 1945 graduate of Salem College. Jane arrived in New Orleans by plane September 1 to join the New Orleans Opera House Association, formerly known as the old French Opera of New Orleans. Jane hopes to gain experience in acting and singing from the five-month season which opens in November with twenty performances — operas such as "Manon," "Pagliacci," "Carmen," "Hansel and Gretel," and "The Old Maid and the Thief." Jane, who has performed the leads in some of the same operas here in Winston-Salem, will understudy for a leading part in the coming opera season, be a member of the Chorus, and a performer of bit parts. As Jane puts it—"As soon as somebody with a 'bit' part breaks a leg, I'm going to grab her part."

In June of this year, Jane Frazier completed her course in voice at Salem College as a pupil of Clifford Bair. Jane who has appeared in five locally produced operas, Little Theatre and Children's Theatre productions, and the last Mozart festival held in Asheville in 1941, has been a soloist in the Home Moravian Choir, presented her own radio program over WSJS for a year and a half, and has had the leading part in a performance of The Messiah held at Chapel Hill.

the new secretary is Miss Garawod.

This year Miss Hixson will teach one course, Latin. Miss Burrell will teach elementary Latin. Because Dr. Anscombe has been sick, he will not be back for several days. Other members of the faculty will teach his classes for him.
