

Leonard Warren To Sing On Wednesday, October 3

Leonard Warren, baritone from the Metropolitan Opera Company, will sing at the Reynolds Auditorium on Wednesday, October 3, at eight o'clock as guest of the Civic Music Association.

Warren was born in New York. He studied at the Columbia University before he began singing at the Radio City Music Hall in 1935. Sidney Dites was his voice teacher over a period of years. In 1938 he won first prize in the Radio Auditions On the Air.

From New York he went abroad to study further in Italy. He learned seven top operatic roles in six months. On his return to the states he married Agatha Litman.

His program will include the following:

I—Thanks Be to Thee by Handel; Old Ruddier Than the Cherry by Handel; To Lo Sai by Torrelli; L'esperto Nocchiero by Buononcini.

II—Oh That I May Retrace the Ways by Brahms; The Drummer by Hugo Wolfe; Secreey by Hugo Wolfe; Hidalgo by Robert Schumann; Aria Eri Tu from The Masked Ball by Verdi.

III—Aria: Avant de Quitter ces Lieux from Faust by Gounod.

IV—Aria: Largo al Fractotum from The Barber of Seville by Rossini.

V—American Songs: Early One Morning arranged by Wm. Tarrasch; An Old Song Resung by Charles Griggs; Thalatta by Harry Spier; When Lights Go Rolling by John Ireland.

Mr. Weinland has announced that some "new and interesting additions" have been made in the laundry. A new room has been added to the north end of the building, and it will be used for the distribution of laundry to the students.

In addition, electric irons have been secured to replace the obsolete ones formerly used. Mrs. Kink requests the cooperation of each student in the plans that have been devised to make work in the laundry more efficient.

I. R. C. Holds First Meeting

To secure new members and to discuss the programs for the coming year, the International Relations Club had its first meeting Wednesday, in the living room of Bitting.

Molly Cameron, the president, introduced the other officers of the club: Vice President, Anne Dysart; Treasurer, Hodges Persons; and Recorder, Frances Winslow.

Suggestions by the members were to invite returned war veterans to speak about foreign countries and to continue having movies.

Clewell Elect Sub House Presidents

Sub-house presidents for Alice Clewell Dormitory were chosen Monday night. Virginia Smith of Dillon S. C. was elected for first floor, and Anne Folger of South Orange, New Jersey, was elected for second floor. Mary Jane McGee of Charlotte, N. C. was appointed to serve on third floor.

Doctor Talks About India

Dr. Charles Norfleet, Jr., member of the faculty of Bowman Gray Gray School of Medicine and veteran of World War II, presented in assembly on September 27 a most interesting sketch of life in the medical corps in India.

His story began in July, 1942, at Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, and continued from California across the Pacific to Bombay, India, and finally to the northern part to Asam Province near Burma. Dr. Norfleet described many scenes in India—the rains and mud knee-deep, mosquitoes and malaria, beautiful scenery and high mountain climbs, gleaming smiles of friendly Hindus, large tea plantations and native artisans.

Dr. Norfleet found the 390,000,000 people poverty-stricken and undernourished, but very friendly. He also spoke of the Hindu religion and told about the different castes and their peculiarities. Back from a very interesting experience with mud and mosquitoes, Dr. Norfleet thrilled his audience with many exciting stories of medicine in the far East.

Stee-Gee Plans Dance

"The Student Government has planned a dance for October 27, and we hope to have an orchestra," announced Peggy Witherington, Student Government president in the Presidents' Forum which met Thursday at 5 in the Old Chapel.

Orchestras have been contacted, but none has been engaged as yet. The Student Government would appreciate suggestions of names of orchestras.

The forum is composed of the officers of all campus organizations. Approximately thirty were present. Dr. Rondthaler stated that the Forum was organized for coordination, understanding, and support of major and minor organizations. He suggested that each organization keep adequate records and elect a faculty advisor if one is not already elected.

By fore-scheduling, cooperation of the deans, the business offices, chairmen of committees, and the dieticians may be secured for all social events. Miss Bonney explained the necessity for this.

Mr. Weinland explained that every Monday morning from 9:30 till 10:15, the faculty Calendar Committee meets to discuss club and organization plans.

Reporters Wanted

Because some girls who wanted to try out to be Salemite reporters were not able to do this week, we are extending the deadline.

Any girl who wants to write for the Salemite may do so by completing the assignment, either for news or feature, by next Wednesday, October 3, at six o'clock. The assignments are posted on the bulletin board in The Salemite office. Completed assignments should be placed in the Salemite office.

Further details may be had from any member of the staff. We are anxious to have others try out.

The assignment is as follows:

1. Write up the following story: Mary Joins, Winner of beauty contest. Prize—trip to New York. Contest held Oct. 1 at Salem College. Judges—Mr. Higgins, Mr. Campbell, and Mr. Evett. Fill in necessary details using your imagination.

2. Interview Nancy Snyder, 202 Bitting, for a story on the new indoor swimming pool. Be sure to get all the facts accurately.

Write a feature suitable for publication in the Salemite.

In both tryouts you will be judged on:

1. Grammar
2. Appearance of copy
3. Expression

Completed stories should be placed in the Salemite office.

Dr. Anscombe To Return Soon

Dr. Anscombe, head of the Department of History, is improving in health after a recent operation. He is able to be up now and plans to resume his duties as professor of history soon.

Dr. Anscombe visited the dean's office Tuesday morning for a few minutes. He reported that he was keeping up with all the Salem news in the SALEMITE. He said he was feeling much better and was anxious to meet his classes again.

Dean Hixson said Dr. Anscombe would probably be able to resume his activities, teaching Modern World History and English History, sometime in the next three to five weeks. He will again take his Philosophy class as soon as he is able.

IRS Chooses Martha Sherrod

Martha Sherrod, Winston-Salem, was elected vice-president of I. R. S. in a meeting of the council on Thursday, September 27. Martha is filling the vacancy created when Nell Jane Griffin, also of Winston-Salem, resigned because of too many points. Nell Jane will continue to be a member of the council.

The council made plans to furnish an I. R. S. room on the fourth floor of Main Hall. It is to be used as a meeting room, to house records, and possibly as a lounge room.

The meeting date for the I. R. S. council has been set for the first Monday in every month at five o'clock. According to the social calendar the fall week-ends are practically full. However the council hopes to plan entertainments for the student body and guests for Saturday nights.

Rat Court Climaxes Unique Houseparty

The Pierrettes Will Present "Cradle Song"

"Cradle Song," by Martinez Sierra will be given by the Pierrettes on November 29 and 30, it was announced today by Helen Slye, president, and Miss Josephine Wible, advisor.

The cast and crew will probably be chosen next week.

The Pierrettes entertained all new students at a "Get-Acquainted" meeting in the Old Chapel Wednesday night. Marion Gaither gave a dramatic war poem, "Young Fellow, My Lad," and Ann Carothers gave a dramatic monologue from the prison scene between Elizabeth and Mary, Queen of Scots. These were followed by an Open Forum at which the new officers for this year discussed Pierrette activities and plans for the year's work. The new officers are: Helen Slye, president; Martha Boatwright, vice-president; Coit Redfearn, secretary; Ann Folger, treasurer; Light Joslin, stage manager; Jayne Bell, student manager; and Janie Mulhollem, student director.

They discussed plans for furnishing the Pierrette room on fourth floor Main Hall, making an inventory of all old costumes and make-up, and programs for the remainder of the year. Committee chairmen were named by the president. The vice-president then invited all freshmen to the first Freshman Dramatic Club meeting which is scheduled for Friday night, October 5.

After the meeting was adjourned, punch and peanuts were served.

Presbyterians Have Tea Today

Salem girls who are Presbyterians were invited to a tea at the First Presbyterian Church this afternoon from four to five. Dr. George Mauze, the minister, and Miss Margaret Wyatt, the director of religious education, announced that this was to be an opportunity to renew acquaintances and to make new friends.

Sober Judge and Jurors Sentence Freshmen

A big red bow, a broad grin, and a hearty "yes-mam" remind the super serene sophomores that the frantic, frivolous freshmen were thoroughly enjoying their hospitality.

From the moment that Marion Gaither announced the "extended sophomore houseparty" in chapel Tuesday until the climax last night when Rat Court was held in Old Chapel, the freshmen have been only too aware of their fate. Students and faculty alike were entertained by the antics of the lowly freshmen as they ran the gamut of emotions before the Almighty Judge, Sarah Clark, and her robed jurors on the dimly lit stage of Old Chapel.

Throughout the week freshmen have graced the smokehouses on their knees praising the sophomores, on the floors alerted for an "Air Raid," on the walls clinging like vines and bunching like grapes, on the piano playing "by ear". The neophytes have been mending socks and blouses, blowing dust out of post office boxes, getting autographs from Mr. Evett, facing the firing squad, and writing love letters for all of the Simon Legrees in the sophomore class.

Now that the ordeal is over freshmen can live a normal life, the sophomores can be themselves, and it will be hard to decide who enjoyed Rat Week most.

Sophomore's Point of View

From the smokehouse of Clewell could be heard the almighty sophomore shouting "Fall out freshmen!" Sophomores honored the freshmen by letting them cling like vines, bunch like grapes, or scramble like eggs.

In the midst of all the merriment several days ago an air raid warning was sounded—much to the enjoyment of the freshmen. It meant several minutes of rest and relaxation for them, stretched out upon the nice, cool grass—or cement. The same afternoon (as if that wasn't enough entertainment for their hostesses) they formed a band and paraded in close formation. The talent that our Freshmen Class has is amazing! Some play violins, some the harmonica, and others even play the bass fiddle—with the aid of a fretful freshman to carry it.

The hostesses have not had the slightest trouble entertaining their guests after 11:30. They all insist upon going to bed at an early hour to relieve the sophomores of any further responsibility.

Wouldn't it be fun if this happy houseparty could last all year.

Day Students Sponsor Tour

The Day Students sponsored a bus tour of Winston-Salem for the freshmen and transfers Friday afternoon.

The tour included a visit to the residential section, to the Reynold Estates, and to the business and factory sections. A stop for refreshments was made at Selected Dairies.
