

Salem Offices Give Rules, Changes

Sign Out Friday

The office of the Dean of Students announces that all arrangements for staying off campus after the May Day dance must be completed by 4:30 Friday afternoon. Under no condition will sign-outs be approved after that time.

Students should check pages 43-44 of the student handbook for regulations governing dance weekends. To spend the night in town a student must file an invitation from her chaperone or hostess who must be either an older member of her immediate family, an adult relative of another student, or an adult resident friend in her home. She must also obtain written permission from her parents stating both the chaperone or hostess and the place where the student will be staying.

Everyone attending the dance must arrive by 10:30 p.m.

Student who stay on campus must be in their own rooms for a house check at the dorm-closing hour. Students may not leave campus during or after a dance except in cases of an approved overnight.

Foard Accepts Assistantship

Susan L. Foard of Asheville, graduating senior majoring in history and Latin, recently accepted an assistantship for graduate study at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va.

The assistantship Susan received was one of three grants available to students.

The apprenticeship program operates at W. & M. with a minimum of nine months of academic study in American history and five months of practical training in one field of apprenticeship.

Susan Foard

Susan plans to attend the 1960-61 session which begins June 27, 1960 and ends August 31, 1961. The program is offered in co-operation with the Institute of Early American History and Culture and Colonial Williamsburg, Inc.

Susan will work in the field of editing of historical books and magazines. Her study includes practical experience in copy-editing, proof-reading, and other phases of editing historical publications as the Institute of Early American History and Culture (publisher of historical books and the William and Mary Quarterly), in co-operation with the Publications Department of Colonial Williamsburg, Inc.

At Salem, Susan is former editor of the Salemite, former president of IRC, secretary-treasurer of Phi Alpha Theta, member of the Honor Society, Executive Finance Board and Humanities Club.

Privileges Begin

Upper class privileges begin for rising sophomores, juniors and seniors May Day weekend. This year the privileges include additional overnights, evening engagements, and hours of the class above the student's present standing.

Each student should check the handbook, pages 44, 68 and 69 for regulations governing her class. The office of the dean of students will post announcement of the new time limit.

A student who has overused her evening engagements for the previous month or her overnights for the semester will not receive upper class privileges.

Exchanges Appear

The Salemite staff announces that the exchange issues received from other colleges are now being placed in the library.

The exchange issues are on a pole hanging on the right side of the fireplace in the library.

The Salemite regularly receives exchange issues from Davidson, Carolina, Wake Forest, Saint Mary's, Hollins, Catawba, Lenoir Rhyne and Washington and Lee. If enough students are interested in reading the newspaper from a school which the Salemite does not receive now, arrangements can be made to exchange issues.

Use Front Door

The Refectory management reminds students and faculty to use ONLY the front entrance when attending meals in the building. The side or west door facing Bitting dormitory must not be unlocked by unauthorized persons.

Any student whose walking is impaired (broken leg, for example) may make arrangements with Mrs. Cummings to secure permission to use a more convenient entrance.

Office Issues Vocational Sheet To Help Guide Rising Seniors

A vocational information sheet for rising seniors has been distributed to each present junior. It is asked that these be filled out and returned to the vocational room adjoining the reception room in Main Hall by May 5.

This information will be used to help improve and strengthen our present attempts in vocational guidance and counseling. It will further aid in setting up the program for next year, so that work may begin early in the fall in investigating job and graduate school possibilities.

Much interesting and helpful information is located in the vocational room for your use. Miss Shirley Redlack who is in charge of the vocational facilities invites students to come in and read the material which interests them.

Deans, Teachers Attend Meets

Representatives of Salem's faculty and administrative staff attended two state-wide conferences this week.

Dr. Ivy M. Hixon, academic dean, and Mrs. Amy R. Heidbreder, dean of students, attended a conference of North Carolina Association of Women Deans and Counselors held at Wake Forest College Tuesday.

Drs. Lucy E. Austin, S. Elizabeth Welch, Ivy M. Hixon, H. Michael Lewis, and assistant professor James L. Bray were in Raleigh for a two-day session Friday and Saturday of the State Conference on Teacher Education.

Group Plans Orientation

The committee on Freshman Orientation headed by Janet Yarborough, president of the rising senior class, and Churchill Jenkins, president of Student Government, will hold its first meeting Monday, May 2, at 7 p.m.

This committee studies previous orientations and is responsible for all plans for the 1960 one.

Three Faculty Members Are Promoted

The administration announced last week that three Salem faculty members have received promotions from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor for 1960-61.

Dr. Inzer Byers of the history department, Mr. Bentrant O. Cosby of the Chemistry department and Mrs. Margaret Snow of the home economics department have been promoted.

New faculty appointments for next year have not yet been completed, and will be announced at a later date. Leaves of absence have been granted to Mr. Carl Meigs for study at Tulane University under Danforth Fellowship and Mr. and Mrs. Mueller for study at Hochschule fuer Musik on a Fulbright Fellowship.

Drama Students Judge Contest At Local High

Eight Salem drama students were invited to serve as judges for the semi-finals of the district speech contest for the National Forensic League. The contest was held April 28-30 at Reynolds High School.

Thursday students judged debates and extemporaneous speaking. Today Miss Barbara Battle and Mrs. Judy Davis judged the final round in the debates. They also judged both oratorical interpretation and dramatic interpretation.

Students serving as judges were Colquitt Meacham, Pat Stallings, Lib Long, Pat Weeks, Vicki Sims, Crockett Rader, Marji Jammer and Agusta Currie.

Doxey Features Debussy In Piano Recital May 6

Carol Rae Doxey, student of Dean Clemens Sandresky, will present her graduation piano recital May 6 at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

A native of Wilmington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Doxey, Carol has studied piano for 15 years and has studied under Mr. Sandresky since her freshman year at Salem.

Her program Friday night includes:

- Fantasia con Fugue, A minor... J. S. Bach
- Etude op. 10, No. 3, E major... Chopin
- Etude op. 25, No. 12, C minor... Chopin
- Danseus de Delphes... Debussy
- Voila... Debussy
- Le Vent dans de plain Debussy
- La Cathedrale Englante... Debussy

Concerto in A minor Schumann
Carol's future plans include marriage to Billy Starnes, also of Wilmington, and a career in teaching private lessons in piano.

Her extracurricular activities at Salem include work on the Salemite staff, serving as copy editor for Sights and Insights and on the reading staff of the literary magazine. She will accompany the academy choral group in their spring concert this week.

Recently Carol performed several of her compositions in assembly.

Carol Doxey

Last summer she presented a recital in Wilmington. This season she plans to give private lessons, possibly interrupting them with a vacation trip to New York.

Twelve Salemites Lead Classes In Highest Elective Positions

This summer the national political conventions will take place and then presidential nominees will begin the long trek to the White House or to second place ex-candidates. Salem has held its own elections — both school-wide with Stee Gee officers and class-wide with the three classes — rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors — electing four officers each for next year.

The senior class elected Janet Yarborough as president... a quiet girl who goes "Beyond the Square" each week... Sally Tyson as vice-president... she will perhaps head committees in French, her chosen major... Dot Flick to take notes as secretary along with the notes included in her music major... and Susan Hughes as treasurer... she holds the purse strings for the Literary Magazine and the Lecture Committee also.

The rising junior class selected Sally Paxton to lead their class into the second highest place in class standings... Agnes Smith will be vice-president... and Ann Sellars... tiny and petite...

Juniors Sponsor Car Wash Sat.

Juniors and seniors, are you proud of your new cars? Faculty members, do you want your cars to look their best? Is the pollen making your car look dull, dirty and uncared for? The junior class can solve your problems.

The junior class will sponsor a car wash from 2-5 o'clock tomorrow, Saturday, in front of the laundry. The cost is $1.00 per car.

Proceeds from the car wash will help to pay for the junior-senior banquet later this spring. Get your car washed and help a needy cause.

will do the note taking... with Frances Taylor will count the money as treasurer.

Lucy Lane... pony-tailed and pinned... is the head for the new sophomore class with Douglas Heinrich... quiet and consensous... as vice-president. Cathy Brown does the note-taking as secretary in class meetings in a stylistic print... and Gayle Venters... smiling and efficient... adds up the totals as class treasurer.

These twelve girls take the lead and under them, the over-300 Salemites take step by step the long trek to the White House of graduation.

Choral Group Tours, Elects New Officers

Wednesday, April 27, the Choral Ensemble elected officers to serve during the coming year. The officers elected were Dot Frick, president; Ann Cunningham, secretary; Margaret Carpenter, secretary; and Beth Fordham, treasurer.

Monday, April 25, the Ensemble returned from its annual spring tour which included concerts in Raleigh, Norfolk, and Williamsburg. The thirty-nine girls making the trip were entertained Friday evening in Raleigh at a dinner with Mrs. Kidd Brewer, a Salem alumna, as hostess. Saturday they were guests at the Azalea Festival in Norfolk and a tea given at the home of Mrs. W. T. Old, a Salem graduate of 1901. The Ensemble spent Sunday morning at Virginia Beach, going to Williamsburg that afternoon. Monday they were entertained at a luncheon in Danville at Evelyn Vincent's home. Later they performed for the Danville Music Club, and afterwards returned to Salem.
