

European Girls To Come To Study Here Next Fall

Salem's foreign students for next year promise to be vivacious, well-after and diversified.

"Keen" and "good-humored" Ingrid Margareta Olson of Stockholm, Sweden, who will room with rising sophomore Harriet Petty, speaks Danish, Norwegian, French, and German as well as English and her native Swedish. Planning to teach after college, she is majoring in English and American History and minoring in education and psychology. She enjoys music, reading, and sports, including tennis, horsebackriding, sailing, skiing, and swimming. She attended secondary school in Stockholm and has traveled in England and Austria.

"Vivacious" and "gay" Eva Drexler of Wilhelmsburg, Austria, who will room with rising junior Joy

Miles, has attended BLBA Teacher Training College for four years and is presently teaching English, gymnastics, and geography at secondary school at Pielach/Kitchburg. Although she plans to continue teaching later, she wants to improve her English while at Salem. Her major fields of study are American and English language and literature, while her minor is gymnastics. She, like Ingrid, has many interests, for she enjoys the theatre, books, and sight-seeing. The 800 meter race and skiing are her specialties in the field of sports. She has traveled throughout Europe and has also studied at Oxford and in London.

The potential of these girls anticipates a rewarding year for both Salem and her foreign students.

- Story -

(Continued from Page 7)

—reminds me of old times. Your hair sure is easy to work with. And it's always good to have someone who don't talk your ear off complainin' about all their problems. Ya know, whenever a person has a problem, their beautician has to hear about it. Funny, isn't it? They always complain to their beautician.

"New? Not much. We had a convention a coupla months ago, that's about all. Don't think I'm goin' to any more of them though. Why I don't know what happens to men that get away from their wives for a weekend — they just seem to go crazy. And the women! That's the trouble with this business. Ya know, I wouldn't mind findin' me another man, but I declare I don't know how to do it. All the men are either crooks or fags. And I want one as good as John. Took good care of me. Why when he died I didn't know what to do, I been looked out for for so long. You know I was only 16 when we got married. Hadn't ever been on my own. But now I wouldn't know how to go about findin' another husband. Anyway, can you see me dating? That is pretty funny, isn't it. The phone? Sure. It's on the desk.

"Say, you know it's kinda cute, you calling home to tell them what to fix for dinner. Guess I'll just have a hamburger or something. Something easy to clean up. How are your kids? He's 18 already? Time sure does slip away, don't it? Goin' to college? He is? I wanted Suzie to go, but she says she don't like studying. She's goin' to be a good secretary though. Takin' typing and shorthand. Doin' pretty good too; gets B's. Just two more years to go. Don't seem possible. Why when I was her age I run off with John and got married. But you know, kids them days was older—more mature. Suzie's got herself a boyfriend that don't look old enough to be out at night on his own, much less drive that ol '55 Chevy around. Sure don't want them gettin' serious—no sir. Get her education first. Kinda sorry I never finished school, but I guess it really don't matter much. I'm scrapin' by—know what I mean, Myra?

Three Faulty Members To Leave Posts Within Academic Community

When June comes and the class of 1967 has left our campus, there will be three other Salemites who will be leaving also, Miss Jess Byrd, Miss Mary Cash, and Roy Campbell. But, like our seniors, they will leave behind a lot of students who remember them.

When summer comes Mr. Campbell will retire to Robinhood, Maine, to his cottages, and boats, and lobster traps where he has spent every summer for 44 years. Miss Byrd will continue to live in her apartment here in Old Salem, while Miss Cash and her sister will remain in the family home in Southside.

Salem has been more than just a place to work for these three professors who collectively have spent almost 135 years of service at the college. Miss Byrd and Miss Cash have been at Salem since they enrolled as freshmen, leaving only long enough to earn their graduate degrees. Miss Cash will, however, still continue to teach a junior course in counterpoint and may even audit some music courses at Salem. In addition to this, she plans to play the organ at Reynolda House during its regular tours and substitute as organist for a number of local churches. Miss Byrd, though not teaching at Salem, will still be available for conferences with student writers. She also plans to spend much of her time playing golf.

After 44 years at Salem and twenty years as the Chief Marshal for the graduation procession, it could be supposed that Mr. Campbell also will miss Salem, as well as Forsyth and Baptist Hospitals where he has taught student nurses and medical technologists in recent years.

Students who have had these three teachers remember each as "the kind of professor that really rakes you over the coals." Miss Cash walks a mile from her home on Sunnyside Avenue to class on snowy days in order to avoid a free cut. Mr. Campbell hasn't missed a class in all his years at Salem, except to attend scientific meetings. And the only day Miss Byrd's freshmen don't have class is the day term papers are handed in and they adjourn to her apartment for a brunch.

Each of these teachers has an impressive scholastic record of his own. Roy Jones Campbell, Professor of Biology, received his B.A. and his M.P.H. from Harvard. Miss Jess Byrd, Emma Lehman Professor of English and Miss Mary Cash, Associate Professor of Theory, received their degrees from Salem. Miss Byrd earned her M.A. from the University of North Carolina and Miss Cash did her graduate work at the Eastman School of Music.

(Condensed from an article by Aylene Edwards in the Winston-Salem Journal and Sentinal.

"Well, there you go—ready for the dryer. You're welcome. Okay, Gloria, I'm ready. Set down. How are you? Just fine. Oh she's fine too—spent Sunday with me."

- Dorm Pres -

(Continued from Page Three)

served as Treasurer of Gramley and Leg. Board representative from Babcock. She has taken part in the Experiment in Self-Reliance sociology project and is presently a marshal.

Another French major is Carroll Lennon who will be President of Bitting. She is from Lumberton and will serve as class FITS representative. Carroll has worked on the Sights and Insights staff, and will be a member of the Curriculum Committee next year.

President of Lehman will be Mary Sheppard, a biology major from Shelby. Mary has participated in intramurals, been on the basketball team and represented her class on WRA.

Mallory Lykes, elected President of South is a history major from Tampa, Florida. A member of Phi Alpha Theta history honor society and May Court attendant this year, she has served on the Curriculum Reform Committee, IRS Council, and has been NSA coordinator and a marshal.

A sociology major from Asheville, Sallie Craig Tuton will serve as Strong's president. She is a member of the hockey team, YWCA cabinet, and has worked on the Sights and Insights staff.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

All required work for this semester, with the exception of the examination, must be completed and handed in by 6 p.m. Friday, May 19, the day before Reading Day.

NSA Student Travel Cards are available to all students for $2. If planning trips to Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, Canada, or in the United States, the travel card offers discounts in restaurants, museums, hotels, theatres, tours, flights, and department stores. No matter where you are going or what you are doing the NSA Travel Card will be useful while enrolled as a student. If interested in getting in on a good bargain, see Molly McPherson in Clewell; Cathy Clements in 312 Gramley; or any NSA Committee member. Buy your card now and travel more cheaply.

Interested students are invited to a State Student Legislature meeting Thursday, May 11, at 6:30 p.m. in Gramley Date Room. Present committee members will inform students of the purpose and operations of this legislative body. Everyone is invited, whether they are interested in legislative and political matters, or just want to join.

Visit Our Second Floor
Everything for vacation needs

SWIMSUITS BY:

Cole — Darlene — Dundeck

SPORTSWEAR BY:

White Stag — Lady Manhattan — and others

DRESSES BY:

Miss Adventure — A & R Jrs. — Jonathan Logan

GIRLS!

Mr. Snavely says:

HAPPY MAY DAY!

MOVIE SCHEDULE

CAROLINA THEATER:

Welcome to Hard Times—now through May 9
Hombre—May 10-20

PARKWAY THEATER:

A Man For All Seasons—now through May 9
Devil's Angels—May 10-17
A Man and a Woman—May 18

ROBIN HOOD DRIVE-IN:

Easy Come, Easy Go, and Smokey—May 7-10

WINSTON-SALEM DRIVE-IN:

Let's Kill Uncle—May 7-9
Saturday Night Bath in Apple Valley and Three on a Couch—May 10-13
Murderer's Row and Ride Beyond Vengeance—May 14-16

WINSTON THEATER:

Doctor Zhivago—now through May 9 (may be held)
Pearls of Pauline—May 9

BEL AIR DRIVE-IN:

The Reluctant Astronaut and Town Tamer—May 7-10
In Harm's Way and
Dracula, Prince of Darkness—May 11-13
Riot on Sunset Strip and Bang! Bang! You're Dead—May 14-16

DOWNTOWNER MOTOR INN

Cherry and Second Sts.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. 27102

Present this advertisement for a complimentary breakfast for two of your guests while they are registered at the Downtowner Motor Inn, Cherry and Second Sts.

ALL SALEMITES CAN WALK TO THE

PETER PAN

Where The Food Is The Best and Prices Reasonable

OPEN 7 A.M.-8 P.M. — CLOSED SUNDAYS

Printing Plates

FOR SCHOOL NEWSPAPERS
YEARBOOKS
PROGRAMS

COLOR-PROCESS PLATES
Let our experience solve your problems.

PIEDMONT ENGRAVING CO.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.