

Dr. Lazarus Chosen As ACE Fellow

The American Council on Education has announced the selection of Dr. Francis M. Lazarus of Salem College as an ACE Fellow in the 1978-79 Fellows Program in Academic Administration.

The program, established in 1964, is designed to strengthen leadership in American higher education by identifying and preparing faculty and staff for responsible positions in academic administration. Forty Fellows, nominated by the presidents or chancellors of their institutions, are selected each year in a national competition. For this year's class there were more than 200 nominations.

Dr. Lazarus joined the Salem faculty in 1973 and has served as chairman of the classics department since 1974. He earned his B.A. degree at Canisius College in Buffalo (N.Y.) and holds the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Cornell University. Before coming to Salem, he was assistant professor of English at the United States Military Academy.

In addition to his interests in classical literature, he is an archaeologist and has participated in excavations in Israel and Greece. He is a past

Music to Drink By

By Rebecca G. Baggett

Tired of those dry old poetry readings you don't understand? Here at last, beer-guzzling plebians of Salem, is an Incunabula-sponsored evening after your own hearts.

Incunabula presents "An Evening of Music: Traditional and Modern Folk, Country and Blues" featuring the local vocal cords and dazzling fingers of Trey Caldwell, Karen Dresser, Nathanael Dresser, Rebecca Dresser, Jody Dunn, P. Z. Dunn, Hannah Haines, and Beth Jones. Many of these artists have performed professionally at Winston-Salem and Greensboro coffee houses. Among the music performed will be works by Townes Van Zandt, Joan Baez, Bob Dylan, the Eagles, Eric Anderson, Phil Oaks, and Goose Creek Symphony.

A small admission fee will be charged but several kegs of beer will be provided without further charge. Tickets may be purchased in advance from any Incunabula staff member; they will also be sold at lunch next week and at the door. Mark Saturday, April 29th on your calendar and be at the Student Center at 8:00 p.m. for an evening of music and beer with Incunabula.

president and trustee of the Foxhall Civic Association and has just finished a term as secretary-treasurer of the North Carolina Classical Association.

Typically, each ACE Fellow is assigned to a college or university president to participate in task-oriented administrative activities.

Of the 540 past participants, 55 have become presidents and more than 220 have become vice-presidents, vice-chancellors, provosts or deans. Their average age is 37.

The American Council on Education, composed of national and regional education associations and institutions of higher education, is the nation's major coordinating body in postsecondary education. Through voluntary and cooperative action, it provides comprehensive leadership for improving educational standards, policies and procedures.

NOTE: The institution Dr. Lazarus will join has not been confirmed yet.

Art Exhibit

The art work of three Salem College seniors will be on exhibit in the Salem Fine Arts Center galleries from Sunday, April 23, through May 5.

An opening reception for the show - which will include oils, watercolors and acrylics -- will be held in the gallery on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Artists are Rebecca Lasley of Alexandria, Va., Diane Davis of Winston-Salem and Hannah Haines of Rockingham.

WRA: SOS For Student Center

W.R.A., which stands for Women's Recreational Association, had its first major meeting on Wednesday regarding the reopening of the Student Center. The number one point stressed at the meeting was the fact that W.R.A. can not handle this task themselves and never have admitted being able to. The club feels that Salem needs a place on campus to bring dates and have a chance to relax and meet people.

At the meeting Wednesday, the following suggestions were proposed: 1) Members from different clubs and organizations on campus may participate in running it. Each club will monarily benefit from working.

2) Entertainment will be provided by many of our talented Salem students. 3) Activities include: game machines, jukebox, backgammon, cards, bingo, pool, etc....

At the end of this year we will take a census to find how many people will support it. If we get it to work the first few months of school and prove it will work, the Salem Administration will also support us and we then can work on remodeling and obtaining a beer license.

W.R.A. needs your ideas, please support W.R.A. and the Student Center.

ATTENTION SENIORS!

As one last tribute to you, the Salemite is offering next week's issue in which you may voice any last words of advice, warning, farewell, you care to bestow on us.

Deadline is Wednesday, April 26. Give any copy to Amanda Vannoy, Laura Castellanos, or the Salemite box in Main Hall.

If not enough copy is recieved to fill a complete paper, this will be the last issue of the Salemite until next fall.

Salem Democrats on the Upswing

The Salem Democrats Club is undergoing a resurrection thanks to the energetic efforts of freshman Amy Monroe. So far there have been two meetings of the club which have drawn substantial attendance. Some of the decisions that have resulted from these meetings are to obtain a charter with the North Carolina Young Democrats this fall, to elect temporary officers for the Salem Democrats, and to build up the membership of the club.

The next meeting of the Salem Democrats will be Wednesday, April 27 at 6:30 in Gramley basement. Anyone interested is invited to come bring ideas and help elect officers. The Senatorial elections are coming up this fall, so the time to organize is now!

For further information about the Salem Democrats Club, contact Amy Monroe in 304 Gramley at 724-9433 or Susan Robinson in 113 Gramley at 727-9197.
