The art of Klaus W. Sporer will be exhibited at the Salem College Fine Arts Center August 26 to September 15. The German musician-painter will show 30 to 40 of his pen and inks, graphics, and aquarelles and will talk with visitors at the opening reception ("vernissage") Sunday, September 2, at 3:30 p.m. in the gallery.

Sporer, whose exhibits throughout Germany have been given high praise, teaches music at the Christoph-Scheiner-Gymnasium in Ingolstadt and is a member of the Art Association of Eichstatt. He has been described as being "truly doubly gifted" by both musicians and painters.

The exhibit is sponsored by Salem College with funding assistance from the German Consulate in Atlanta, Ga., under its cultural program.

The public is invited to visit the galleries weekdays and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 9 p.m. The vernissage is open to the public also.

The artist's most recent individual exhibits have been in Augsburg, Bamberg, and Nuremberg. The City Archivist of Ingolstadt describes Sporer's work as art that "gains life by what has been dispensed with and by the absence of non-essentials."

MUSEUMS

Museum of Man is located in Reynolda Village near Reynolda House. It contains artifacts from a variety of places in the world and is of special interest to people concerned with anthropology, history and archaeology. On Thursday evenings during the year at 7:30 p.m. the museum presents a program free of charge to the public. It is open 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday-Friday, and 2-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Free.

Reynolda House offers an outstanding collection of American art in a unique setting, the former home of Richard Joshua Reynolds, founder of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Completed in 1917, the house was the heart of a self-sustaining village and farm. Reynolda House contains collections of furniture, paintings, Doughty Birds, prints, costumes as well as the Reynolda Gardens. Visiting hours are: Sunday from 1:30-4:30 p.m.; Tuesday through Saturday from 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Closed on Mondays, Christmas Day, and from Jan. 2 until Feb. 1. Nominal admission charge.

SECCA is the Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art. Housed in the former James G. Hanes home, it is an exhibition and educational center of art work from eleven southeastern states. There are rotating shows and a monthly "Director Walk-Through". SECCA is located at 750 Margeurite Drive off Reynolda Road. The hours are Tuesday-Saturday 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Free.

The Greensboro Coliseum sponsors a variety of activities such as concerts, lectures, sports and fairs. The Doobie Brothers Concert is September 22 and the Bee Gees Concert is October 2.

Clubs and organizations

Salem has many fine clubs and organizations. Some are budget organizations which means that their financial support comes out of the Student Government Fee that you paid at the beginning of the year. It is your responsibility to participate in and take advantage of the activities that are sponsored for your benefit. These clubs hold regular meetings and all students are welcome. Meeting times are generally on the calendar and call meetings are posted on the big calendar in the refectory. The non-budget organizations are more specialized and are open to membership as designated below. Any questions should be directed to the club chairmen or Maggie Whitesides, South Director of Student Activities Board.
