The Social Scene At Salem : Never A Dull Moment

Food For Thought

When the Refectory announces broccoli pizza it is time to take action.

Pick up the phone, call dominoes and start working on the freshman 15. It really does happen and this is where Salem women traditionally find their late night food.

Mr. Butler's - for really unusual pizza in a really unusual atmosphere, on Peter's Creek Parkway towards the Marketplace, they deliver 5:00 - 9:00 nightly, very inexpensive.

Mayberry's - easily the closest eating establishment off-campus (right beside the Post Office), ice cream and sandwiches, this year it will stay open until 10:00pm.

TJ's Deli - there's one downtown on 4th Street and one in Parkway Plaza, great food, good prices (Parkway gives a 10% discount to students and a free meal with proof that it is your birthday).

Mercantile Plaza - also located downtown on 4th Street (where the OPit is), it has international fast food, unfortunately it is not open late.

Dunkin' Donuts - donuts are cheap, and you'll find the store open 24 hours.

Michael's - very elegant, very expensive, good for important special occasions, for example Parent's Weekend, located downtown in a renovated mansion.

Darryl's - in walking distance from campus. It offers good food, decent prices, and is excellent for a nice evening out.

And there's always the Tom's machine in the basement or a carepackage down the hall.

Social life at Salem begins with you! Everyone must get involved in the mixers, dances, and events to make them successes. Big 3+3 and CAC are Salem's two organizations responsible for planning and executing our social occasions.

Big 3+3 is ready for a great year and is looking forward to everyone joining the organization. Big 3+3 is a campus group that plans and carries out annual social functions such as the Freshmen Mixer, two other mixers, as well as three dance weekends a year. The membership is open and Big 3+3 is always looking for new ideas. We encourage any interested freshman to participate.

Park It: Don't Let Parking Drive You Crazy

Though walking from the far reaches of the FAC parking lot may not be all that fun, it is a parking place.

Salem students should count themselves fortunate because as freshmen they are allowed to have cars on campus. Other campuses offer little to no accommodations for freshmen cars.

The one exception to easy parking is often finding a place to park. But as a first hint to freshmen, don't park in the wrong places.

If you are loading and unloading your vehicle in the fire lane you must have your flashers on. The key words are loading and unloading - this does not include people.

Public Safety is here for you. Give them a call and they will walk you home. Emergency phones are located in both parking lots.

At no time is it permissible to park on front campus, although you may load and unload. It is also a parking violation to park in the historical district.

It is illegal to park in:

- RHD parking areas
- Faculty/Staff parking areas
- Refectory parking areas
- handicapped parking areas
- loading zones
- reserved parking areas
- infirmary parking areas
- College vehicle parking areas

As for fines, not many have changed except for the cost of fire lane violations. The fire lanes on campus now carry a possible $50 penalty. Not only does Public Safety have the authority to write you a ticket for $25, but the City can also issue you a citation for an additional $25.

If a guest disobeys the traffic rules, you are held responsible for their fines. Overnight guests must register their cars at no cost and park in the appropriate location.

The Public Safety Department has a few general requests and tips to keep you safe and ticket free. Remember to always turn on your flashers while loading and unloading. If you are arriving on campus after dark, use the emergency phones to call for an escort. Just to be on the safe side - go in pairs and always be alert!

But, most importantly, remember that Public Safety is always available to assist you.

By following these simple rules, you will be able to keep you bank account healthier and Public Safety happier.
