4-H CLUB HEALTH CONTEST

Jessie Haskins

At the March meeting of the Bailey Senior 4-H club the members discussed plans for the Nash County Health Contest to be held in Nashville. The County Nurse came the next week to select from this club the healthiest boy and girl to represent the club. Lois Johnson and Jack Farmer were chosen. They will go to Nashville for a thorough examination in the near future.

It has been the custom on achievement day each year to have a health wedding of Nash County's most healthy boy and girl. After these two are chosen, they enter the state health contest, and the winners in the state have an opportunity to enter the National Health Contest held in Chicago. The winners of the National Contest are crowned all American health king and queen. Bailey hopes to have Lois and Jack as winners.

HOW IS YOUR ENGLISH

Rachel Bissette

One of the most desirable accomplishments is being able to speak good English. A person is usually judged by his English.

Mrs. Farmer, the tenth grade home room teacher, is attempting to make all the English students speak better English. She is endeavoring to break them from using slang expressions and to teach them to pronounce words correctly.

On the blackboard she puts all the words the students say that are not in accordance with good English. The words that are misspelled or pronounced most are "git," "git shed of," "nary time," "I know dat," "hadn't ought," and

"aint got."

Mrs. Farmer appointed a student in each of her English classes to keep a record of each member in that class that misspelled or mispronounced a word. This will be counted against him on his English grade.

All make mistakes in speaking English, but half of these mistakes could be avoided if the student would just think before he speaks. A little more care will improve our English.

A PROGRESS PARADE FOR 1940

By G B Homerom

Make a resolution to begin the fall of 1940 with participation in extra-curricular activities. Be sure to organize a Debating Club. Take part in the development of the cultural and esthetical goals and the aims of good citizens. As students, march forward with the March of Time in the gala parade of progress for Bailey High School.

Develop the interest in debating in the academic year of 1940-41. This present school year in Civic Sociology each Friday has been devoted to debating social problems. In History 3 there have been interesting debates on immigration, the League of Nations, and equal rights of men and women. Cultivate a taste for the finer things in life. Be interested in the social, economical, and political ideals of our country.

Continue the great progress made in the school year of 1939-40. Make the campaign issue "greater and greater progress for 1940-41."
