THELBERT BOYKIN ADVISES HARD WORK IN H. SCHOOL

Dear Mr. Editor,

Having received "The Bailey Bugle" throughout the school year, may I congratulate the newspaper staff and the others responsible for such a grand school paper. Remarkable progress has been made in the quality and the organization of your paper. I appreciate the opportunity to write a short letter for publication in the school paper.

I am taking college preparatory work at Oak Ridge Military Institute. My courses include Spanish, solid geometry, algebra, chemistry, English, and Military science. By good fortune, I have been able to make the honor roll thus far this year. Honor roll students are granted special privileges and wear two gold stars on their uniforms.

an enrollment of two hundred and thirty-five. It is an honor military institute, which is one of the goals of all military schools, and was founded in 1852. Oak Ridge is located on a very beautiful country site eighteen miles from Greensboro, twenty miles from High Point, and twenty-one miles from Winston Salem. We participate against other schools in basketball, baseball, swimming, and rifle meets. There is also intramural basketball, softball, rifle meets, football, soccer, and volleyball.

I am really enjoying college, and this military life is grand once you get used to it. I am looking forward to entering North Carolina State College next fall, where I plan to take agricultural education.

My advice to every high school student is make use of every opportunity. Once you graduate from high school, you will realize your mistake if you fail to do this. Never complain about the large amount of work your teacher assigns you or how hard it is. The harder you work in high school, the easier you will find it, should you continue your education after graduation.

Sincerely yours,
Theibert Boykin
