

J. R. S. ENTERTAIN SENIORS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

ESTHER FINCH IS VALEDICTORIAN

Esther Finch during her four years in high school has done such creditable work that she leads the class in scholastic attainment and thereby wins the honor of valedictorian for the class of '41. As a close run up is Rachel Bisette, who becomes salutatorian of the class. Both of these students will play an important part in the class day exercise, "The Senior Radio Party."

SENIORS PLANNING TO RETURN

Sixteen members of the senior class are planning to return next term to take the offered commercial course consisting of typing, business arithmetic and bookkeeping.

Those returning are Charles Medlin, Ruth Bisette, Evelyn Stott, Leron Ray, Mary E. Jones, Josephine Lamm, Jeaulen Finch, Rubye Lamm, Dorothy Bisette, Sidney Jones, Norman Patterson, Maebelle Bisette, and Magdaline Dew.

SENIOR QUIETLY MARRIED

Reducing the graduating class by one, Marie High quietly slipped off this month and was married to Vernon Dew, a former student of Bailey, who now is in training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

She is making her home with her parents.

EVENING ENDS IN THEATER PARTY

At 7:30 o'clock the doors of the Bailey Club House were thrown open March 21 for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. Tables arranged among a setting of pines, dimly lighted by pirate ships, gave one a feeling that he had stepped upon Treasure Island, particularly when upon the program covers Long John Silver greeted the guests. To add still further to the feeling that all were on the sea of piracy the juniors would at times ring the halls with their pirate songs mingled with the menu consisting of pirates' special dishes--melted gold, stolen booty, treasure salad, pirates' swords, and buccaneers' brew. Members of the Woman's Club served the banquet. CHRISTINE TURNAGE ACTS AS TOAST-MISTRESS

The toast-mistress, Miss Christine Turnage, with an air of simplicity and grace made everyone feel at ease. At the same table were mascots of the junior and senior classes, Little Misses Clara Lou Stott and Carolyn Finch, with the senior grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Stott. The mascots were dressed in long evening dresses as beautiful as those of their hostesses.

At the close of the banquet the toast-mistress announced that the seniors were to be the guests of the juniors at a theatre party at the Nash Theatre in Spring Hope where Bob Crosby's "Let's Make Music," was playing. The picture was enjoyed by all, especially the guests.
