

ALUMNI VISIT SCHOOL

Last week seemed to be visiting week at Bailey High School; for Helen Jordan, Louise Brantley, Marjorie Brown, Frances Manning, Grady Stott, Pearl Lamm, and James Wynne, all alumni, visited the school while home for spring holidays.

N. C. HISTORY STUDIED

As a result of a study of North Carolina History in connection with the civics class the blackboards in Miss Carr's home room have been artistically designed. These drawings include a map of North Carolina, a United States flag, a North Carolina flag, and the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina.

PAPER PRAISED BY ANOTHER SCHOOL

Comments from a letter written to the editor of the Bailey Bugle reveal that the high school paper is being read by more people than just local subscribers. In the letter written by Miss Doris V. Brock of Konansville High School, Konansville, North Carolina, she states, "I wish you much success in publishing future issues, and remember there are a lot of people besides Bailey people who enjoy it a whole lot."

"I read the Bailey Bugle and you really have what it takes to publish the perfect high school paper. It is the most interesting high school paper I've ever read," declares Charles Stephens Jr. of the same school.

Konansville High School publishes a monthly school paper.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES HELD

Recently for five consecutive days Rev. J. W. Loy held a series of religious services in the school auditorium. The students and teachers appreciated the interest shown by Mr. Loy.

JUNIOR PLAY RATED MOST ENJOYABLE OF YEAR

"Miss Adventure," a three act comedy directed by Miss India Hill, junior class sponsor, was successfully presented by the junior class March 28, 1941, in the school auditorium. Proving very entertaining, the play was frequently interrupted by laughter from the audience.

In the cast were Christine Tur-nage, Horace Meacomes, Elizabeth Lamm, Wilton Boykin, Sadie Wells, Richard Stott, Christine Finch, Francis Bisette, Jessie Honeycutt, and Libby Phillips.

Receipts from the play amounted to twenty dollars, which will go to help pay for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

FOR YOUR CAR NEEDS

SEE US

CORBETT'S

SERVICE STATION

Miss Batts: "Don't you think you can get your nails a little cleaner?"

L.V. Boykin: "I am going to paint my nails tomorrow so you can't see the dirt."

J. D. HASKINS & BRO.

FRESH MEATS

---

GROCERIES

---

FRUITS

BAILEY, N. C.