

NEWSPAPER STAFF

Editor-in-chief-----Marie Morgan
 Assistant Editor--Sarah Morgan Farmer
 Reporters-----Sidney Jones
 Martin Liles
 E. C. Griffin, Jr.
 Business Manager-----Hildred Ruffin
 Assistant-----Hollis Haskin
 Artists-----Marks Underwood
 Christine Finch
 Production Manager-----Josephine Lamm
 Assistant-----Jack Farmer

SHALL PARENTS DO LESS THAN THE MERCHANTS?

All school papers need the support of the community if they are to be really successful. The Bailey Bugle has been very fortunate in having the cooperation of the merchants of Bailey and Wilson. If the parents will cooperate as well in subscribing as the merchants have in advertising, the Bailey Bugle should have its most successful year thus far.

Successful advertising benefits the consumer as well as the merchant. The merchants will continue to support the paper if they know it is being read in every home by every parent. In terms of slang it's now up to the parents "to come across."

EGO MARCHES AGAIN

Yes, it is the oldest, most tiresome theme in B.H.S. The students know it and have known it and yet nothing has been done about it. This is "Big I." Why is it that in every club, ball game, play, and even in the class room there is always a shadow lurking --Jealousy? When a student has done something worth commanding, why not be proud of him instead of criticizing and wondering why I didn't get the honor. There is a tendency to sit back and intimate that he doesn't deserve so much praise, when with a little effort the honor could be anyone's. Why not make a habit of praising the other fellow occasionally instead of always picking him to pieces.

TIME TO THINK OF THE FUTURE

Now is the time for all seniors to be seriously considering what they will do next fall--go to college or remain at home, doing whatever presents itself. To many people the word college conveys the picture of a rather dreary institution where one carries an armful of books and is continually bumping into an absent minded professor. College presents a different picture. To acquire knowledge of a profession is of course one of the purposes of going to college, but half the value of college would be lost if all one's time were spent getting "book-learning". Some of the most important things in life are learned from experience, not books. Meeting new people with different backgrounds broadens one's outlook. Friends made in college are often friends all through life.

One must learn to rely on oneself at college. This self-reliance helps prepare for the time when one will have to make a living.

An education, self-reliance, and friends are values of college that will last all through life.

STAFF WELCOMES NEW TEACHERS

Joining the Bailey faculty this year are four new teachers to whom the Bailey Bugle staff extends every good wish for an enjoyable year.

Teaching third grade is MISS DORRIS QUINN from Chinquapin, Duplin County. She comes to us from E.C.T.C. as an experienced person, who taught last year at Boulaville.

From Stony Point, North Carolina, comes MISS JANE LACKY of the history department. Last year she taught in Georgia.

For our new commercial department MRS. LAURINE LASSITER comes from Murray, Kentucky, as a graduate of Murray State Teachers College and has had several years teaching experience.

Coming from Ashville, North Carolina, Mr. G.G. MORGAN, a graduate of Mars Hill Junior College and Wake Forest College joins the teaching vocation for the first time this year.