

BAILEY FACULTY
TO PRESENT
"OH SUSAN!"

"Oh Susan!" A comedy in three acts, is to be produced by the members of the faculty October 22 in the high school auditorium. All of the faculty members will have some responsibility in the production.

The plot centers around the character JANET DALTON, a designing young society girl who usually gets what she wants, played by MISS DORRIS QUINN. In this particular case, the aggressive Miss Dalton wants a husband, and the object of her attack is MR. DANVERS MEREDITH, A gay, witty bachelor who claims to be a woman-hater, played by MR. G.G. MORGAN. The play resolves itself into a clever game of deception with a surprise finish.

This excellent comedy would be a tragedy for anyone if he failed to see it.

Teacher: Where did Calhoun make his last speech?

Stephen Earp: On the ground.

SENIORS ENJOY
FOOTBALL GAME

Senior Day at Chapel Hill was celebrated on September 19, 1941, by members of the senior class. Twenty eleventh graders took the trip accompanied by five members of the commercial department. After viewing the campus and a Boy Scout parade, everyone went to Kenan Stadium where the Carolina football team gave them a big thrill by defeating Lenoir-Rhyne 42 to 6.
