

JOURNALISM CLASS STRIVES FOR HIGHER STANDARDS

The journalism class has this year undertaken the task of publishing the best mimeographed school paper in the state. As a result of this course, it will not be surprising if many choose to continue working in the field of journalism.

The "Bailey Buble" has been entered in two nation wide contests from which it will receive both adverse and constructive criticism. The paper will be judged together with other papers from schools of the same size. Individual honors are offered as well as prizes for the best paper.

Pupil: Last week I saw the three hundred carloads of soldiers go through Wilson.

Ninth grader: You know I would like to be a soldier and go on Man-u-vers.

The new leaders, Miss Kate Niblock and Mr. H. L. Cooke, organized junior and senior 4-H clubs at Bailey High School, Tuesday, October 14.

The only officer elected was the president, Josephine Lamm. Since the officers rotate, the vice-president and secretary-treasurer will be boys.

DRAMATICS CLUB ORGANIZED BY MR. MORGAN

Tuesday, October 7, the juniors and seniors met with Mr. Morgan and organized a Dramatics Club for the purpose of writing and presenting good plays.

Eighteen members joined, three boys and fifteen girls, but the club expects to increase its membership by the next meeting.

Officers elected were Horace High, president; Richard Stott, vice president; Iris High, secretary and treasurer; and Rachel Jones, reporter.

FIRST AID CLUB BEGINS ACTIVITIES

One of the new clubs, First Aid, held its first meeting last Tuesday with Miss Lackey as adviser for the election of officers and the discussion of the purpose and benefits of the club.

In discussing reasons for organizing Miss Lackey stated that she hoped to teach the members how to care for minor cuts and scratches, and to point out how different parts of the body are connected and assisted by different bones and muscles. The material for this study will be furnished by the Red Cross.

Aileen Finch was elected president, to be assisted by Josephine Pace as vice-president; Martha Bunn, as secretary and treasurer; and Janie Glover, reporter.

Mrs. Farmer: Who in here knows who Hal Williams' father is?
