

Amusing Incidents Relieve Monotony Of School Day

BY PHYLIS

"Ha! Ha! Ha!" rings out as something amusing happens in Bailey High. Isn't it strange how a certain mouse got to the tenth grade in a few minutes while it takes us ten years? On geography class that afternoon the mouse seemed to be enjoying map study while the girls were on top of the desks screaming and the boys dying laughing. Mrs. Lassiter had to have a mouse student until death cast its shadows on the poor creature. Zoom -m -m! It's a bomber--made by a senior no doubt. I don't think Hitler can possible take us if we leave it up to the seniors.

Riddles are quite popular on the senior literature class especially those which are original. A series of laughs followed Jack Farmer's riddle which asked, "Why would the Stott family tree die if Richard died?" The answer was the "sap" would be gone.

Snoring is rather amusing to Sociology students when the persons snoring show they haven't had much practice. Before trying again, it might be wise to practise at home.

Is Maebelle Bissette getting absent-minded lately? I came upon her the other day looking up and down the halls and in the rooms for her school bus. She finally saw Jack Farmer taking off to the water fountain on it.

School life. What fun!

PERSONALITY PUNS

HORACE MEACOMES

What's in a name? It is evident certain names carry weight in the Bailey school. My advice to a newcomer would be to call every one either Finch, Bissette, Lamm, or Jones and he would come very near getting an answer. Ten FINCHES and nine BISSETTS are found representing members of eight families.

Nine LAMTS from six families and seven JONESES that come from four families are enrolled.

Someone may call for Frances Bissette or Dorothy Eatmon and four responses will be received, for there are two of each.

When discussing the use of about with ages Mrs. Farmer said "After all's said and done I'm not about fifteen years old."

FROM PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S "WAR MESSAGE TO CONGRESS"

Many people ask, "When will this war end?" There is only one answer to that. It will end just as soon as we make it end, by our combined efforts, our combined strength.
