

BAILEY GIRLS PROUD OF THEIR DRIVING ABILITIES

BY PHYLIS

"It's rather amusin' but confusin'", quoting Lil Abner, how the girls of Bailey can drive. It wouldn't be natural if Maebelle wasn't seen turning those corners on her school bus.

Maybe Stella is improving in her handling of a car, for she is now driving over to Bailey; but we questioned her ability when first seen under the wheel. We really held our breath for fear she was going to have a collision with a bus.

Have any of you seen Hildred and Christine "taking off" with Hildred "chauffeurin'?" They always stop at E. J.'s for a gallon, or, if they are rich that day for two gallons of gas. Hildred seems to be driving a certain blue Chevorlet from Wilson fairly well also.

Whiz-z-z! A certain gray ford went by! It is not a patrolman but Josephine Griffin. I guess that must have been Martin with her.

Maybe Mozelle has just started driving but she can really "take off" like nobody's business.

Is it the Chattanooga Choo Choo or Elsie Pearl starting off? It must be Elsie Pearl, for it's past time for the train. As each gear changes, her luck changes and the car rolls smoothly on.

A Chevorlet with white wall tires is seen parked at Bailey High. I don't know who the guilty one is unless it is Elsie Mae.

Gee! Here comes a big car! Wonder who is at the wheel? Why it is Marie Morgan! I'm not surprised though, for she has been at it for a long time.

A new green Chevorlet seems to be popular as a passenger boat, and its driver, Sarah Morgan, is a real chauffuer.

Honk! Honk! Better run and get behind the nearest tree!

Seriously though it is too bad that Uncle Sam will be limiting the number of miles on which these new drivers can exercise their talent.

ADDED TO OUR STORE
A COMPLETE GROCERY DEPARTMENT

SEE

US

TODAY

R.M. MEACOMES
BAILEY, N.C.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES
HARDWARE

BAILEY
N. C.

ED'S

DRY GOODS SHOES

5¢ TO $5.00
STORE