

War Influences Detected In Styles Chosen For School

BY PHYLIS

What a gay and colorful sight awaits one who looks up and down the halls of Bailey High! Red, blue, and white striped bows flutter patriotically in many of the girls' hair.

Speaking of hair, it seems that pretty, doll-like curls have gone out of style. Just so there is a puff or a roll on top with the ends turned up, you get by all right. For the boys the Jap-sham, one of the shortest styles, is climbing rapidly toward the top of the "Hit Parade of Hair Styles."

These days you can't tell who is a boy and who is a girl, for the girls have turned into real tom-boys by wearing riding pants. But it's a good idea in this cold weather. The new fad serves well, too, during the calisthenic period.

Those long sweaters are really "the stuff" to go with the ever popular skirts. Most of the girls wear red or blue, but the more colors one can afford to have, the more stylish she is.

Saddle oxfords still hold top rank with the girls in the shoe line. They are also popular with the boys.

Costume jewelry is at its highest peak in popularity. The more popular pins are adorned with a "V" for Victory", or "Bicycles built for two", or "Bells". Pearls are still worn by the girls for added attraction.

Yes, it's a good old world. Probably the best we have ever seen or ever will see. As the time marches on styles change rapidly
