4-H HEALTH KING, QUEEN CANDIDATES NAMED

Members and leaders of the 4-H Club selected candidates for school health queen and king at their last meeting. Elsie M. Pace, Josephine Lamm, and Richard Stott were examined by the county nurse March 17, but it is not yet known who was the healthiest.

If one of these club members is victorious in the County Health Contest, he will be judged in a district contest, and if he succeeds there, he will be one of the twelve candidates for State Health Queen and King.

Pictures of the club have been made to be displayed with other clubs in the county.
