

Fashions Parade

My friends sometimes ask me how should we dress were we to visit you in school one day. Here are my suggestions:

Any old shoe bottoms will do and odd socks. I'd just use the loudest nail polish I have and polish my toe nails. I wouldn't advise originality in hair-do; just push it up on top, stick a flower in, and let it go. Any skirt or sweater will go, just so they meet.

Wear all the pens and decorations you have. The Bailey girls believe in them and boys believe in borrowing them. Got a few safety pens, pin together and behold! A necklace.

Thus dressed you can feel perfectly in style at Bailey High.

FORMER TEACHERS ANSWER DEFENSE CALLS

Three of last year's teachers accepting positions elsewhere, have not returned for this year.

Mr. E. A. Howton, now in Rocky Mount, is working for the Planters Bank. During three days of the week he remains at the bank. The other days he spends interviewing the farmers.

Mr. H. E. Rogers, with the Hercules Powder Company, Radford, Virginia, is a laboratory supervisor.

Mr. Morgan drafted this summer is at Fort Logan, Colorado, where he serves as technical adviser.

Beware Of Juniors

"Buy a magazine" is the cry of the junior class. My advice to you, if you see a junior coming, is to duck in the nearest doorway, or run in the opposite direction. If you don't you'll find yourself either buying a magazine, or the juniors will brand your footsteps until you'll be glad to do anything to be let alone.
