Juniors Select Rings

Each graduating class must have a symbol to show the world it has grad-u-ated. The 1944 senior-bound juniors are no exception. They, like other graduating classes, want class rings.

On November the fifth the awaited saleswoman (salesmen are in the army now) arrived in Bailey. The juniors with the advice given by the saleswoman decided upon a very attractive class ring. They are sure that the ring selected is much prettier than any of the rings chosen by previous junior classes. (They'll say it everytime.)

Now they wait for the fall of their senior year when they proudly begin to wear their rings and show that each one is a real senior!
