Get Out The "Old Sewing Basket"

Cooking season is in for the junior home ec. girls. And what a season! The girls don their aprons and grab their cook books. You would be surprised what they can "stir-up" in a mixing bowl. You should try some of the rolls!

The girls still cling to the aprons they made in their freshman year of home ec. They have grown; the aprons have shrunk. You can imagine the results.

"No more cooking for you girls until you make new aprons!" said Mrs. Rogers when she saw them. B. Morgan

Hollis, eating a popsicle--"My mouth's about to freeze. E. C.--mine never gets cold. I keep it hot by running it."
