

HERE AND NOW

$34.44 was the total amount from the sale of Christmas seals.

APPROXIMATELY 50 boys from the Bailey community are now serving in the armed forces.

REPORT on the last six issues of the Bugle, mailed on January 13, will be received from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in March.

SIXTY new high school books will be placed in the library during January.

NEW STUDENTS entering for the last semester are Fube Cockrell, Geraldine Ferrel, Beulah Sherrod, Gladys Boykin, Allison Williams, and Preston Goff.

PAINTING in the lunch room improves the appearance of tables and cabinets.

TRANSFERS from Bailey for the last semester are Howard Barnes, Maggie Ruth O'Neal, Helen Finch, and Reba Bissette.

125 FREE LUNCHES are served daily in the high school cafeteria.

40 HIGH SCHOOL diplomas have been ordered for the seniors who expect to graduate in the spring.

13 STUDENTS are in the aeronautics class.

Speed Typists To Receive Pins

Commercial students at the end of this semester typing fifty words or above per minute with not more than five errors will be awarded a gold pin with the number fifty engraved on it.

This offer is made by Mrs. Laurine Lassiter, the commercial teacher. Winners will be announced in a future issue of the Bugle.

Study Hall Or Sewing Class

During second period study hall the ninth grade girls are forever sewing. The reason? Home Ec. is the following period, and they know what the consequences are when found with no sample.

The bell sounds. With a sigh of relief they start for their room, totally disgusted, however, when someone points to the sample sewed to their dress. Alas! no work ready.
