EARNING TO LIVE LIVING TO SERVE

FEDERATION MEETING HELD

A third meeting of the Nash county federation was held at Coopers, March 6. There was a short business session at which time it was decided to abandon the field day and the annual Father and Son banquet because of the gas rationing. After the meeting a supper of chicken, salad, and iced drinks was served.

SHOP WORK ENDS

The chapter is completing another year in shop work. One of the requirements for each boy is to know how to take apart and put together at least one electrical tool in the shop.

Any visitors to the shop will be welcomed and will be shown the operation of the different tools by some member of the chapter.

Bailey Wins Band Contest

The music makers of the Bailey department of Future Farmers won the annual music contest held as a federation contest. Middlesex and Spring Hoped tied for second place and the points of achievement were equally divided. There was a ritual contest held at the same time. Middlesex won first place followed by Coopers and Spring Hope.

SWINE PAMPHLET PLANNED

In order to get increased production there must be sufficient knowledge of the subject to do so.

To make available this information the Bailey Chapter plans to put out a pamphlet with information on how to select a hog

BEST SPEAKER DETERMINED

The finals of the speaking contest were held in the school auditorium, Wednesday, March 3. Richard Stott won first place. In his speech he discussed "The American Farmer And The World At War". Willis Manning, second, spoke on "The Need for Increased Production".

The finals of the county will be held at Bailey, April 19.

and how to care for the hog until maturity. This will be the second pamphlet of its kind the chapter has completed this year.

Full cooperation from all the boys taking vocational Agriculture will enable the farmer to get this needed information.
