

HERE AND NOW

TENTH GRADE home economics girls are now helping the Red Cross by making children's over-alls.

ANNUAL election of officers for P.T.A. was held Thursday evening March 11.

MARIE MORGAN, 1942 editor of Bugle, made Dean's list at Duke University for the first semester.

SERVICE MEN at home on furloughs in February and March were William Johnson, G. H. Barnes, Cradford Finch, Earl Wiggs, Tally Lamm, Elkins Christian, Eldred Manning, Willard Deans, Elkins Glover, and Ralph Farmer.

IF FUEL BAND is lifted, the seniors may be able to enjoy a normal graduation.

MILITARY DRILL is given to the high school boys each day at activity period by Principal Carl H. Walker.

NINTH GRADERS DESIGN FRIEZE FOR ENGLISH

Ninth grade English classes, in order to create more interest in the story of Silas Marner, to remember the story longer, and to portray thoughts into pictures, are making a frieze depicting events of the story.

These pictures drawn by various members of the class will have the final copies revised by Dorothy Mae Parish, Sallie Lou Perry, and Ivan Denton.

The girls' frieze appears in Mrs. Howard Farmer's room and the boys' in Miss Melba Martin's room.

Junior Commandos Compete for Ratings

Junior Commandos, recently organized in B. H. S., are now actively at work. So far only the grammar grades are taking part. Ranks are being given according to the number of pounds of scrap iron brought in.

Pounds collected totaling from 25 to 500 entitles a member to be a non-commissioned officer; above 500 gives a commissioned officer's rating.

In addition pupils collecting from 25 pounds to 500 pounds of scrap iron receive an arm band with their rating on it. Those bringing in over 500 pounds receive a sweater, and a cap.
