

BAILEY BUGLE
Published Monthly by
BAILEY HIGH SCHOOL
Bailey, North Carolina

Editor-in-chief.....Sarah M. Farmer
Asso. Editor.....Horace High
News Editor.....Hildred Ruffin
Business Mgrs...H. Haskins..M.Liles
Feature Editor.....Sallie Lou Perry
Vocational Ed.Depts.R.Stott.M.Lewis
Make-up Editor.....Christine Finch
Mimeoscope Editors...J.Pace..M.Bunn
Art Editor.....Ivan Denton
Typing Editor.....Eleanor Hedrick
Designer.....Tommy Etheridge
Circulation Manager.....J. Griffin
Proof Readers...Aileen Finch.J.Vick
Advisors.....J.Farmer.L.Lassiter

Spring Presents Itself

Spring, as usual in its unsurpassed splendor and beauty, is beginning to make its appearance, bringing with it a re-birth of all things controlled by Mother Nature. Although the coming of spring is, theoretically speaking, a renewal of the appearance of nature, it must not be thought of as that and that alone. Making ourselves a part of this rebirth is as much the purpose of spring as is the changing of colors.

It should be remembered that it was in this season of the year that Christ was crucified, making possible a new birth, a new life for all.

Wasted time is never regained. Be careful, then, how you spend your time.

To be able to truly love your competitor is to possess one of the most admirable characteristics of man.

Co-operative Spirit Now Shown By Seniors

To have learned to co-operate is to have conquered a big step in life. Recent signs prove the seniors are learning this step. After many unpleasant disagreements pertaining to class activities the entire class seems at last to have learned to pull together. Now, twice the business can be carried out in one thirty minute class period as formerly because time is no longer wasted in arguing. Improvement of class spirit and a co-operative influence upon the entire high school will surely be the results of the new attitude.

Demand For Better Work

Failures now should be avoided more than ever before. We should try to do our best at this time, for the more educated we are the better we can help our country in every way, in fighting or in civil life. If we are inducted in the army, an education will help us even there.

What Is Temper?

When one has a quarrel with another, is this really temper? Temper is like a substance in a pot, if it is suddenly placed over a fire it will begin to boil but when the fire burns low the substance will cool. Temper follows in this same way. If a person lets temper get the best of him, after he has had time to cool off, he will probably regret what he has said or done. The important thing, then, is to keep cool and level headed and avoid the "boiling point".

Are you going to have a garden this summer? You can't go to school on an empty stomach; likewise our soldiers can't fight on empty stomachs. In a very real sense food is ammunition.