HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

New Equipment Replaces Old

New furniture replaces the old in the home economics department.

Sixteen chairs and four tables supply the need of better equipment.

Tables of black tops and red borders take the place of the old mahogany ones, and chairs of maple, the old oak ones.

Two of the tables haven't been placed because of the lack of screws.

Home-like Touch To Be Added

"We'll try to make the best better," remark the third year home economics girls, as they plan to add more attractive touches to make a more home-like room.

Objectives are to secure pictures, improve curtains, clean furniture and obtain a new book case, new covers for screen and door, sets of dishes, and linens. Improvement in the filing cabinet is scheduled in order to provide a convenient filing system.

Farm Family Living Required For Both Boy And Girls

One of the required subjects of the eight grade is a course in farm family living.

To encourage more fun in the home, the class is learning the benefits of cooperative play through games. The students plan to make a checkerboard, sets of old maid cards and bingo, and several other well-known games. In addition they will make two or three games for the first grade.

Girls To Have Party

Girls of the ninth grade plan to have a party tonight at the home of Pansy Ray Bissette.

Each girl may invite a boy. To cover expense of refreshments all girls will contribute twenty-five cents.
