

With The Alumni

MARTIN LILES, ex-assistant business manager of the Bugle, holds the same position on the school paper at Greenbriar Military School.

E. C. GRIFFIN and CARL WALKER, JR., two of last year's seniors, are known as the Meredith Sheiks, according to Dame Rumor.

SARAH MORGAN FARMER, home this month for the first time since entering school, states that she enjoys college life and is doing particularly well in English.

MARIE MORGAN, for making honor roll during her freshman year at Duke University, has made the Ivy Scholastic Honorary Society.

GRADY STOTT, having finished his Marine course at Duke, is now stationed at Paris Island.

The Home Front Boy

The soldiers do the fighting,
While we remain at home;
But we do some sweating,
So they can carry on.

We are classed in 2C
To raise the food they eat.
When they are home on furlough,
We are working in the heat.

But when this is all over,
And the Victory is won,
What credit do we get?
We stayed at home for fun?

We are not wearing the G. I.;
We, too, would be proud of that.
All we have is overalls,
And a dirty old straw hat.

We're not kicking, soldier.
We're in it just like you.
All we want is credit,
Given where credit is due.

We're not shooting guns,
Nor playing give and take.
We're working while you're fighting
For the good of these old states.

Jack Farmer

Six Alumni Become Commissioned Officers

Among the alumni now with the armed forces are six who have received commissions.

These officers are Lt. Colonel Bruce Perry and Dr. William Farmer, Major, of the Duke unit, in England; Ensign Earl A. Finch in Massachusetts; Richard Smith, 2nd Lieutenant, in Texas; Harvey Bisette, 2nd Lieutenant, and Ensign Robert Griffin in Florida.
