

HERE AND NOW

SENIORS take the initiative in practicing citizenship by cleaning up the school ground.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE has begun in earnest for the girls in Bailey high, and the coach, Miss Melba Martin, has hopes for a promising team composed of old and new members.

BOBBY STOTT, of his own accord, has formed a football team. His team has played several games, including Mt. Pleasant, Wendell, and Spring Hope.

The GENEROSITY of merchants is evident from the number of ads in the BUGLE this month.

FALL CLEANING takes on a definite tone as students and teachers strive to make each room cleaner, more attractive, and more home-like.

SENIOR CLASS MEMBERS had their first party at the club house last week, and the JUNIORS will have theirs there tonight.

MRS. JIM TEDDER, continuing her former custom of offering potted plants to the school during the winter months, has lent her flowers this year to the commercial department.

P.T.A. VOTES TO IMPROVE GROUNDS

Improvement of school grounds becomes one of the major objectives of the P. T. A. according to a decision of the October meeting. Finances for this purpose are already in the treasury.

The theme of this year's program centers around child-parent-teacher relationship. To the room that has above one-fourth of the parents present at P. T. A. meetings in high and elementary schools, one dollar will be given monthly, following the same plan as last year.

Winning this past month were Miss Wilma Johnson's room in high school and Miss Mariah Thompson's, in elementary school

Bond Sale Increases

Well on the way toward purchasing jeeps through bond buying, the students of Bailey high bought $534.65 worth of war bonds and stamps during the second month of school.

Although they have already bought enough bonds to buy a "Quack Jeep", they have been asked to keep on buying until the quota of $3,000 is reached by December 7.

The Third War Bond drive is over, yet the government has asked that no one stop buying bonds.

SCHOOL ANSWERS CALL

When the Bugle went to press, the Junior Red Cross had 400 members, contributing $25.16.

Leading in contributions was the sixth grade with $4.06, and the seventh, eighth A and B, and the third grades had 100% membership.
