

With The Alumni

ALUMNI HOME DURING CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS MADE THESE INTERESTING COMMENTS:

CARL WALKER JR:

My advice to college-minded students is to "stuff" into their heads all that can possibly be gained from high school subjects.

ELSIE PEARL EATMON:

I advise any person planning to take a business course to study bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing in high school before entering a regular commercial school.

MARIE MORGAN:

I'm now working with the "Sophomore Y" which plans the recreational activities for the month.

RELLA PACE:

To go to college should be the aim of every high school student.

MOZELLE COOPER:

My French has helped me in understanding the requests of the boys at the Post Exchange, and my English, in writing letters of application.

HELEN HEAN FARMER:

My English has helped me most.

RUBY PACE:

I enjoy typing more than any subject I ever studied. In my work in Jacksonville, N. C., I use it daily.

CHRISTINE FINCH:

Study harder, especially math and English, for you'll need it in college.

JOSEPHINE PACE:

I wish to comment on the wonderful work the journalism students are doing on the Bailey Bugle this year. I've heard many compliments on the paper, and I want the staff to know that it has really impressed every one who has seen and read it.

JACK FARMER,

has his own radio program. Each afternoon except Sunday at six o'clock he presents in cooperation with Mary Worthington and Ray Morale a fifteen minute musical program over W.G.T.M.

Four Alumni Become Commissioned Officers

Four alumni in the armed forces have received commissions.

They are Lt. George Lee Bissette in Florida; Lt. Raymond Potter, Texas; Lt. Elkin Christian, Maryland; and Ensign James Jones in San Diego, California.

ADDRESSES

L. G. Brantley R.M.3/c
U.S.S. Corry
Postmaster
New York City,
New York.

Pvt. Ben H. Lamm
34319838
Btry, "C" 301 St.C.A.
A.P.O. 827
Postmaster
New Orleans,
Louisiana

J. C. Finch M.M. 1/c
1-V.S.N. 319
Fleet Post Office
New York, N. Y.

MAY THE

YEAR

BRING YOU AND

YOUR FAMILY HAPPINESS
W.M. MANNING'S GROCERY

BAILEY, N. C.