Pains Of Hunger felt

Have you heard why Florence likes "The Bells are Ringing?" Well, listen closely and I'll tell you.

Mrs. Farmer was reading the poem "The Bells" while poor Florence was about to starve, and at every mention of the word bell, Florence gave a look of agony. The smell of those delicious foods cooking in the lunch room didn't help any either. It was the first time she had been hungry in about a week, and then of all times the poem had to be read.

Finally, the bell rings; you see why Florence likes "The Bells are Ringing." NF

Girls Attend Rally In Raleigh

Members of the home economics clubs of Bailey high were represented at a State Club Rally in Raleigh by Pansy Ray Bissetto, Jackie Lois Edwards, and Miss Jewel Langley Saturday, April 15.

A luncheon and style show was given at the Woman's Club for entertainment of the group.

For the climax of the day's entertainment the delegates attended an Open House at the Governor's Mansion.
