Chapter Rates Seven Farmer Degrees

The Chapter Farmer degree is the highest honor awarded to Future Farmer in North Carolina.

The Bailey Chapter has so far seven degrees, held by Thelbert Boykin, Charles Medlin, Norman Patterson, Martin Liles, and Linwood Vick.

APPLICANTS

This year there are seven boys trying to reach the qualifications that have been set up by the state officers at Raleigh. If they meet all requirements, they will become Carolina Farmers in 1945.

CHAPTER STRESSES BOND BUYING

Members of the Bailey Chapter have kept a record of all bonds bought for the past three years.

In 1942-'43 the chapter bought $1950 worth and in 1943-'44, $1275. This year it has bought $1325. The goal is $1500; which amounts to $37.50 per member.

NINTH BOYS LEARN TO OPERATE MACHINERY

During the past few weeks, the ninth grade boys have been working in the shop to become more skilled in the handling of machinery.

In addition to learning how to adjust and operate electric machinery, they are also learning to use various kinds of hand tools.

LESSON LEARNED

Since Rudolph Eatmon had the misfortune to cut off the end of one of his fingers while sawing a board on the jointer, the rest of the ninth grade boys act rather shyly and hesitantly before using a machine.

Tenth Boy Represents Chapter In Contest

Isaac Medlin, a tenth grade ag. student, is the representative from the Bailey Chapter in a lecture demonstration contest at Coopers school today.

The topic on which Isaac gives his demonstration is the Point Study Cabinet, which the ag. boys have been studying recently.
