

CLASS DESIGNS SCRAPBOOK FOR SILAS MARNER

Pictures portraying visualized scenes from Silas Marner and articles discussing principal events of the story were compiled in a scrapbook by the tenth grade during their study of the novel.

The scrapbook was designed as the class believed Silas Marner would have done it for himself.

PICTURES

Pictures were drawn or cut from magazines to illustrate the characters and most interesting scenes.

Articles written by Phyllis J. Finch and Betty D. Sanders discussed the main events.
