

Many Teachers Spend Vacation Traveling, Visiting, Studying

Most of the Bailey teachers were found vacationing out of North Carolina this summer.

Miss Wilma Johnson, senior home room teacher, toured the United States, going to California by the southern route and returning by the central route. Her party made stop-overs in New Orleans, Mexico City, Grand Canyon, and other interesting places.

ICE CAPADES

Of all the places visited by Mrs. Rudolph Glover on her trip North the Ice Capades at Atlantic City, New Jersey, was the most outstanding, she declared. This ice show was given in the largest convention hall in the world.

After a rest in Kentucky Mrs. Laurine Lassiter visited relatives in Chicago; Miss Millie Pearson visited in Florida.

While at Pamlico River Mrs. J. P. Underwood made a special study of wild flowers, adding forty-seven to her wild flower collection.

VISITS SON

Mrs. Van Noppen visited her son's home in Poland, Ohio, this summer.

Mrs. Horace Meacomes visited New York on her honeymoon; Mrs. Silas Worthington, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Howard Farmer and Mrs. Howard Wilson each attended conventions relating to their field of work. Mrs. Farmer went to Chapel Hill; Mrs. Wilson, to Raleigh.

The other teachers remained at home for rest and diverse home duties.

STUDENTS FORM THEIR UPPER TEN CLIQUE

Yes, it's true. A new social scale has been set for this year.

Last year's social standing in high school depended on a case of appendicitis.

It appears that "to rate" this year one must have a tonsil or adenoid operation.

Within the first three weeks of school Marie Williams, Isaac Medlin, Billy Murray, and Mary Evelyn Glover had their tonsils removed, Betty Doris Sanders stepped a little higher by having a tonsil and adenoid operation. William Glover tried to be listed in the social register by having an abscessed throat. Don't give up hope, William, because the doctor says that if you have further throat trouble you will have to have your tonsils removed.

From all reports the people of the community are trying to get in the social ring too.

EIGHTH GRADE JOINS GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT

No longer departmentalized, the eighth grade this year is taught as other grammar grades.

Last year it was necessary to have two separate classes. This year there is need of only one, as no students come from Mt. Pleasant. An extra teacher has been added to Mt. Pleasant to teach the eighth grade there.

MARLYN LANCASTER, a member of the junior class, acquires the title MISS BUGLE by receiving the most points in a room-by-room subscription contest sponsored by the Bugle staff.

Marlyn will be crowned in an evening coronation ceremony October 11. The other twelve contestants will be Miss Bugle's attendants.

RATING

Each room in school chose its Miss Bugle, and all subscriptions secured by the class counted as points for her. Each month's subscription rated one point. The junior class by selling 55 year subscriptions gave Marlyn a total of 495 points.

TIES

Tying for second place were Deotha Glover of the ninth grade and Carolyn Finch of the fourth with 414 points. Carolyn procured more subscriptions from people not in school than any other contestant.

OTHER REPRESENTATIVES

Other room representatives were Dianne Tapp, Yvonne Meacomes, Lane Farmer, Joyce Thompson, Amy Lou Horton, Clara Lou Stott, Helen Jean Brown, Mary Blanche Stone, Octavia Beard, and Janice Bunn.
