

NINTH GIRLS EXCEED ALL OTHER CLASSES IN HONOR RATING

PTA To Feature Book Wk. At Program

"Books Are Bridges," the theme of Book Week, Nov. 10-16, will be the subject of next week's PTA program.

To entice people to read more and acquaint them with available books that, if they be "well chosen and well handled, can bridge almost any situation" is the purpose of Book Week.

The program will stress principally books that help one to understand other peoples. Among the books of this nature to be presented will be Our Good Neighbors of Russia; Hawaii; Wonderful Adventure of Nik, Sweden; Homing, Girl of New China; Village Blacksmith of Vilno, Poland; and many others.

'Medal Spurs One,' Reports J. Morris

"Being a good citizen is one of the qualifications necessary for successful living," states Joyce Morris, winner of the citizenship medal last year.

Co-operation, interest in school activities; consideration of others, promotion of school activities, cleanliness, and dependability are Joyce's ideas of a good citizen.

"Receiving such a thrilling surprise" when awarded the medal, her first one, Joyce thinks that everyone would "get a kick" out of a similar experience.

Camp Charles To Become Scout Center Of State

Donations help to remodel Camp Charles for Scouts' entertainment.

People of Eastern North Carolina have made donations to help install a 45-acre lake and rebuild quarters on the grounds of Camp Charles.

Because of the fact that Camp Charles has been a Scout Camp for a number of years, it was chosen as the camp site for all Eastern North Carolina Scouts.

The camp is not expected to be finished for some time, but the lake and quarters will be available for camping next summer.

AWARD AWAITS TOP STUDENT

Bailey's best all-around student just wasn't last year. No one met the requirements.

Politeness, quietness; honesty, trustworthiness, studiousness, and interest are a few of the characteristics that teachers say make a best all-around student.

The best all-around-student medal is awaiting the person who meets all these requirements during this school term.

During the first six-week's grading period eleven students made honor roll. Of this number six students were ninth grade girls.

Those making honor roll in the ninth grade were Lenzie Morgan, Wilma Bunn, Thelma Creech, Romaine Edwards, Barbara Farmer, Lena Mae Price, and Corina Williams; in the tenth grade, Margie Peele and Ben Etheridge; in the twelfth grade, Phyllis Finch. Keith Glover of the twelfth grade also made honor roll grades but was absent a day.

FAILURES

Over the same period of time there were twenty-nine failures in high school. The room having the fewest number of failures was Mrs. Howard Wilson's ninth grade girls.

Mrs. Wilson's room also had the highest average grade in high school. Seventy-two per cent of the students made B's and A's. Miss Wilma Johnson's seniors were second highest with fifty per cent of the students having A's and B's.
