Milk for the lunchroom is now being purchased from Southern Dairies in Wilson. A wire box for garbage disposal is being built by the agriculture department to be placed farther away from the building. Both the boys and girls are urged to keep the toilets in order.

Until a larger lunchroom is possible, the cafeteria will not be elibible for an A rating.

The lunchroom supervisor reports that meat and lard are still badly needed. Nevertheless, Mrs. K. F. Lewis asserts, "It may not what be just everyone wants, but we will have some thing everyday and plenty of it."

Last year it received a B rating because milk came limited, unsanitary was

AttendanceDrops

For the last two weeks of the six-weeks' term the at- trying even harder to be a tendance dropped sharply in high school.

The drop was more noticeable in some rooms than others; for instance. Mrs. A. H. Farmer's room increased its absences nearly 53 per cent, while Miss Wilma Johnson's seniors remained approximagely the samo.

Throughout the first sixweeks there were only 131 absences in high school. 108 were absent in the next two weeks of school. Some of these absences were due to sickness. but
