Winter

With Apologies to M. Jones

Bleak dawn and chatting animals Falling snow and sighing wind Pattering rain and roving brook,
 Bare trees and sinking sun.

Bleak dawn,
 misty and blue,
 Chatting animals,
 blithe and few,
 Falling snow,
 mystic and fluffy,
 Sighing wind
 cold and huffy,
 Pattering rain,
 Cool and twinkling,
 Roving brook,
 clear and trickling,
 Bare trees,
 huge and wavering,
 Sinking sun,
 bright and hovering

St. Dept. To Sponsor Reading Demonstration

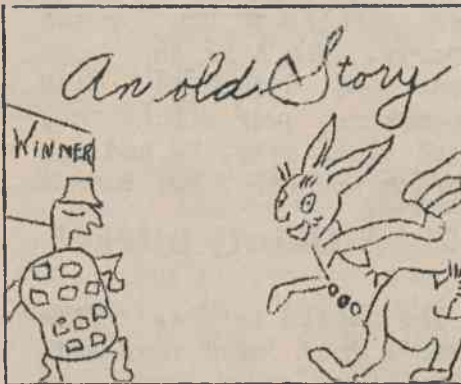

Miss Julia Wetherington of the State Department of Instruction and Miss Carter, representative of Scott - Toresman & Company, will give next Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock a reading class demonstration for the primary grades, using as basic material the stories found in the books published by Miss Carter's Company.

Bailey is one of the two schools chosen from Nash-County for this demonstration.

Teachers of neighboring schools have been invited to attend these classes.

BUGLE URGES CAUTION

As often pointed out by the principal, shooting firecrackers on the school ground may result in disasters. The disturbing of and injuries to others are among the numerous reasons the BUGLE points out why pupils should not shoot firecrackers as the Christmas season approaches.
