

Eighth Gr. Mounts Pictures

When Mrs. Howard Farmer was a guest at Hotel Fort Macon, Morehead City, recently, the management gave her some maps of North Carolina. On the back of each were twelve pictures (in colors) of scenes in the state. Mrs. Farmer very generously gave two of these to the eighth grade to use in studying N. C. history. One map is on the board and the pictures from the other have been mounted and posted on the bulletin board. They add to the attractiveness of the room. The grade is grateful to Mrs. Farmer and the Hotel for these maps.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Gerald Gay's mother came to visit the fifth grade on Friday, November 8, 1946. His birthday was on Saturday, but the party was given early so all of his classmates could enjoy it with him. Mrs. Gay served ice cream sandwiches. Everyone had a happy time.

PEN PALS

The eighth grade has been studying letter writing. Letters of all types have been written.

Miss Peasson wrote to Mrs. Suggs, the eighth grade English teacher of Avon Park, Florida, and suggested that the pupils of the two classes correspond.

Mrs. Suggs sent the names of twenty-nine of her pupils and letters have been written to these. The class hopes to find these pupils interesting pen pals.

The entire grammar grades wish to express their appreciation for the invitation to the library during Book Week.

THANKSGIVING STORY

Once upon a time there was a little boy who had never seen a turkey. One day he said to himself, "I shall go into the woods and hunt for some turkey". Through the woods he went. Suddenly he saw something that looked like something red. Then he saw that it was an Indian. He moved slowly until he saw that the Indian was friendly. He spoke to the Indian in a kind word. The Indian spoke and then the Indian went away. The next day the Indian and the white people had a big feast. They had turkey, pumpkin pies, and lots of things. That was the first Thanksgiving dinner. T. Morris

Eight Grade Has Picnic

Since the eighth grade won the PTA membership prize, it was decided to have a picnic. This picnic was held Friday afternoon in Richard Etheridge's back yard.

Games and stunts were enjoyed for an hour and then the picnic lunch was spread. This consisted of fried chicken, deviled eggs, sandwiches, pickles, cakes and fruit. Mrs. Rupert Perry, who offered the prize, served the drinks to the group.

The invited guest were Mrs. Etheridge and the grademothers, Mrs. Tapp and Mrs. Williams.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day will come on Thursday,
And all the turkeys will begin to worry,
For on November twenty eight
They will be put on our plate.
Oh! what a dinner we shall eat
When all of the family comes and take a seat.
Turkey on every ones plate,
Even if some come a little late.
Thanksgiving Day just comes once a year,
We all enjoy it and know
Christmas is near.

SIXTH GRADE OBSERVES
BOOK WEEK

Thirty eight books have been read this week by the pupils of the sixth grade. Each child made an attractive poster of the best book he had read this year.

On Thursday the grade visited the town library and selected books the pupils would like to read.

The grade appreciates the interest shown them by Mrs. Wylie and Mrs. Morgan.
