Bobby Vick's varied collection of souvenirs entitles him to be The Collector of the Month. Asked why this collective interest, he replied, "One thing makes you want to get many more."

When his older brothers and sisters went away from home to some interesting place, they would send Bobby a little gift. Receiving many of these souvenirs, he decided that adding to these would be an interesting hobby to promote.

A cup was sent to him by his oldest brother from a shrine on Okayama. People went to this shrine to pay tribute to the cherry blossoms. The cups were used as a decoration for the shrine. Another hand-painted cup came from an ancient tomb on Okayama. Once a week these cups filled with rice were carried to this tomb to feed the spirits so they would not die.

From Mitsuhome came harakiri knives, a pair of wooden shoes, and an opium pipe; and from Osaka, a whip used to drive the Korean slave laborers.

Bobby received six articles from Japan: a Japanese medal won by a Japanese soldier who because he opposed the action of his government gave the award away, a dog tag, a piece of a Zero plane, a pair of goggles, an ash-tray made of empty gunshells, and some ornaments held by a lady in a marriage ceremony.

Money was sent to Bobby from New Zealand, Panama, Australia, Cuba, Hawaii, the Philippines, and Japan. Nine items made of wood were sent to him from various places in the United States. They include a boat from Annapolis, Maryland; a fish from Seattle, Washington; a key from Chicago, Illinois; scissors from Williamsburg, Virginia; a barrel from Waycross, Georgia; a well from Bremerton, Washington; the helm of a ship from Coney Island, New York; and a feather with a pen from Smoky Mountains, North Carolina.

Flag-like banners from 18 states decorate his room.

Bobby's most prized possession is a walking stick that can be taken apart, revealing within a knife.

He has this exhibit on display at his home. J.B.G.

Nash County Health Department gave a hearing test to all students from the 4th through the 12th grades last week. Defective ears will be rechecked.

CRITICISM

have had no training.

In Bailey prices of ads are $3 for a full page and $1.75 for a half page; in Wilson, $3.50 and $2.

In contrast a mimeograph paper of a near by school charges $20 per page for its ads.

In answer to the question Why are there more ads from Wilson than from Bailey? the staff has only two possible answers: Wilson has more firms to draw from, or Wilson firms value advertising more than do Bailey firms.
