

"EAT IT UP
WEAR IT OUT

MAKE IT OVER
ORDO WITH OUT"

Home Ec. Giblets

Dorothy Jeans' interest in handwork is manifested by the type of work done.

Alice Ferrell, Faye Glover, and Bettie Mae Glover like cooking better than sewing. This comes as a surprise to the class, since their dresses turned out well.

Peggy Whitley, returning to the lunch room the night of the banquet for ice cream, became shocked by a loose wire. She vowed she'd find where the light switch was the very next day.

Many people may wonder why Octavia Beard said she had rather "sew than eat". Could it be she was not hungry at that time?

A student was overheard to say that Mrs. Wilson gave the hardest test of any teacher in high school. Maybe she doesn't know what a hard test is.

MOST GIRLS PREFER COOKING TO SEWING

Most students of the home economics department prefer cooking to sewing.

Doll Leads To Career

Of all the things fifteen-year-old Mary Evans could have received for her birthday, why did she get a doll?

She exclaimed to her mother, "What on earth shall I do with this thing! I haven't had one since I was ten".

"Oh", said her mother, "don't you realize that you have never sat down to a machine and sewed one stitch. So take this doll, and other equipment and make her a dress."

A few days later Mary burst into the living room, "Mother", she said, "see what I have done."

"Yes", said her mother, "it's the prettiest dress I ever saw."

From then on Mary continued to make doll dresses, then her own dresses. When she finished school, she became a seamstress. She always remembered how her mother had encouraged her. Her career had begun with a doll. i m p

Reasons given are they could eat what they cooked, everything did not have to be basted, and if anything was done wrong, there was not anyway of taking it out and doing it over.

Models Follow Reports

Reports given on Personal Grooming by home ec. one girls were followed by a discussion.

After these reports, Anna Leighn Johnson and Mary June Brantley gave a demonstration on the procedure of applying make-up, using Jean F. Glover and Mildred Finch as their models.

Dept. Makes Cookies

Directed by Mrs. Howard Wilson, home ec. students made cookies for the dance given by the recreational committee.

Three different kinds of cookies were made: bon bons, pecan crispies, and oatmeal. All were of different color and flavor.

The girls of group two and three helped in making them.

GIRLS DESIGN APRONS

Paper aprons were made for the Mother-Daughter-Father-Son Banquet by three volunteer home ec. girls, Joyce Brantley, June Brantley, and Elizabeth Glover.

These aprons were worn at the banquet by the ninth girls who served.
