

Home Room Students Greet Teachers With Christmas Gifts

"Christmas comes but once a year", and aren't the teachers glad when it arrives! Who wouldn't be? Just look at the lovely gifts the high school teachers received from their home-rooms.

Miss Wilma Johnson, senior sponsor, was given a lovely lapel pin with bright colored stones.

BOOKENDS

A pair of boy and girl bookends were given to Miss Edith Farmer by her eleventh grade class.

Tenth-grade boys and girls gave Mrs. Laurine

Lassiter, their home room teacher, a pair of white kid gloves.

Mrs. Howard Farmer was the recipient of a box of delicately tinted butterfly stationery from her ninth boys.

SILVER SET

A silver salt and pepper set and a lace handkerchief were received by Mrs. Howard Wilson from her ninth grade home-room girls.

In viewing the gifts many of the students secretly wished that they were teachers. Jean B. Glover

Student Interests Account For Use Of Most Names Appearing In Paper

With this issue practically every high school student's name will have appeared in the Bugle. Most of these have been used in connection with school activities.

Names of 93 students who have participated in school enterprises have appeared within the past four issues of the paper.

The honor roll accounts for 13 other names.

Thirty different students have been active in sports throughout the year. Many of these names have been repeated several times.

Travel, home activities, fashions, jokes, and other miscellaneous activities have resulted in the use of 28 students.

All of the teachers' names have appeared in the paper at some time.

Listen, Little 1947,

Don't Let The Folks Forget To

Have Their Cars Checked At
Bailey Service Station
BAILEY, N.C.