

BAILEY BUGLE

POOLE TO DELIVER BACCALAUREATE SERMON; MAY, COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

VOL. 8 NO. 9 BAILEY N. C. MAY 9, 1947 PRICE 10¢

English Dept. Edits Literary Magazine

Found enclosed in this issue of the Bugle is the first copy of the new "literary" magazine, "Pen Scrawls", representing work done by the English department this year under the direction of Mrs. Howard Farmer and Miss Wilma Johnson, teachers.

MAGAZINE

The magazine, containing themes, letters, poems, and other composition and creative work representative of the English department, is published to encourage better writing, to promote an increased desire for creative writing, and to serve as a memento of the year's work.

ASSISTANTS

Assisting the staff with the publication are Pansy Rae Bissette, Phyllis Finch, Mary Evelyn Glover, Peggy Brannon, Jackie Edwards, Jacqueline Collie, Sharon Bunn, Nancy Finch, Gladys Phillips, Ruth Farmer, Betty Doris Sanders, and Ben Etheridge.

The cover page, designed by Jacqueline Collie, is run off in the school colors, green and gold.

CALENDAR

Baccalaureate Sermon-May 18
Class Day Exercises-May 21
Closing of school---May 22
Commencement Night--May 22
Baseball Games-----
May 13 Bailey at S. Hope
May 16 Wendoll at Bailey

Mrs. Underwood Serves As School 'Doctor'

Mrs. J.P. Underwood, sixth grade teacher, because of her training in first aid, serves as the school's doctor and nurse. Her medicine cabinet supplies have totaled $75 this year.

MEDICINES

She buys the best known antiseptic preparations for home use. States Mrs. Underwood, "Sulfathiazole and sulfanilamide have really worked wonders for students with minor infections in this school this year."

Money for these supplies is taken from the school treasury.

PATIENTS

Students from the first through the twelfth grades come to Mrs. Underwood for first aid. Accidents occurring all during the day consume a good bit of Mrs. Underwood's spare time and sometimes necessitates interrupting her classes.

SCOUT BREAKS CO RECORD

Six Boy Scouts received merit badges or higher ranks at the Court of Honor meeting held in Nashville in April. Gene Finch broke the county scout record by getting seven merit badges.

The seven merits awarded to Gene were for Farm Layout and Building, Machinery, Farm Records and Bookkeeping, Woodwork, Farm Home and Its Planning, Home Repairs, and Carpentry.

To be entitled to these medals Gene was required

Commencement exercises will open with the baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. I. T. Poole, minister of the Bailey Methodist Church, May 18, at 11 o'clock in the school auditorium. Hubert May, member of Cooley and May law firm, will deliver the commencement address, May 22, at 8 o'clock.

CLASS DAY PROGRAM

Taking a leading part in the class day program, "Attic Memories", to be given in the auditorium, May 20, at 8 o'clock, are Betty Doris Sanders, valedictorian; Keith Glover, salutatorian; Mary Evelyn Glover, class poet; Isaac Medlin, prophet; Irvin Finch, Jr., giftorian; and Ann Brock and Bill Boykin, mascots. Each member of the senior class is to have a part in the program.

AWARDS

Awards and diplomas will be presented Thursday evening following the commencement address.

Music for the programs will be rendered by the community choir, composed principally of high school students of Bailey and Mount Pleasant.

to draw a map of a farm, to tell the use of 6 machines and 12 tools, to keep farm records, to make a book case, to give ideas for improving the farm, and to make 14 repairs in his home.

Richard Etheridge, Scott Lewis, and Percy Murray, Jr. attained five, three, and one each.

Those receiving ratings were Ben and Richard Etheridge, Star, and C.H. Manning, Life.