

Fashions, Fancies, And Frills-By Bernease Eatmon

In answer to the question "What do you think about girls' wearing bow ties?" the following answers were received:

Elton Williams: "I think they're cute."

Rex Finch: "I don't like them."

Bobby Perry: "If they're going to wear the boys' clothes, let them foot the bills."

Billy Morgan: "When a girl wears a bow tie, it doesn't look original."

Millard Morgan: "They aren't tight enough (I mean choking)."

Billy Horner: "Any girl that wants to wear a bow tie and doesn't have one may borrow my black polka-dotted."

Some of the girls around BHS have been seen wearing boys' colorful plaid shirts, red, black, green, and white. Owing three of these bright-toned shirts are Juanita Glover, Barabara High, and Peggy Whitley.

Nothing more is needed to top off an outfit than a white, long-sleeved blouse with Peter-Pan collars, cavalier cuffs, colored buttons, and various types of jabots or bow ties.

Appearing on the new long and short flared back coats are many added features: Pilgrim collars... plaid or plain colors... detachable hoods... fur trimmings... gabardine or corduroy materials. Found sporting these are Marie Bailey, Eloise Bogen, Jean Pace, Ruth Farmer, and even Scott Lewis.
