

Principal's Column

BY M.W. WEAVER

LITTLE ACTS DETERMINE CHARACTER

Reputation is what people think you are and character is what you are. I would rather not have to write what is going in the first part of this column for this month. However, it needs to be said and students need to become conscious of the harmful effects on one's personality of little acts that go on around us at times.

Unfortunately some of our students think that anything they can pick up belongs to them if they can get away with it. Some mornings I hear a boy say as he comes by the supply room, "I bought two pencils yesterday and somebody got both of them." May I ask you frankly Is that quite fair? Is that being a good sport? Is that the kind of citizenship which you want your neighbor to practice on you?

DISAPPEARING BOOKS

Another one will say, "I put my book at such a place, and it disappeared." Others dare not put down their coin purse for fear that some one will pick them up. Some rooms are especially bad for such acts. I want you to think it over and decide that you would like to treat others as you would have others to treat you. After all "Honesty is the best policy".

CHRISTMAS

Christmas will soon be with us again. Of all the holidays of all the year, Christmas means most to more people around the world than any other. Let us catch the spirit of love as exemplified through Jesus. Let us catch the spirit of peace which He taught. Let us catch the spirit of sharing and truly learn that "It is more blessed to give than to receive".

MERRY CHRISTMAS to each of you and may Santa be the very best he has ever been to you.
