

The Past Comes To Date
CLASS OF '28

BLANCHE WINSTEAD MANN

"First of all, let me tell you how much I enjoy reading the Bugle. I look forward to it each month; it's just like a letter from home," writes Blanche.

At the Stephenson Music Company, Raleigh, N. C., Blanche worked for two years after graduation. She afterwards coached home talent plays for Wayne P. Sevell Production Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

In '38 she met L. C. Mann Jr., who was with the Bowers Construction Company, and after two and one-half months she became his wife. The couple lived in 13 different towns in North Carolina and Virginia until Mr. Mann joined the army in '42. Blanche traveled with her husband to the various camps in which he was stationed. After Mr. Mann received his discharge, he again joined the Bowers Co. The couple has lived in Whiteville, N. C., since October, '45.

IMOGENE HORN R MOORE

For ten or twelve years after graduation, Imogene was a nurse for young children of wealthy homes in Canada.

When the war began, she worked in a war plant in Detroit, Mich. In '43 she became the bride of Howard Moore.

She at present works in the same plant in which she worked during the war.

By the route of the grape vine, it is said that the couple live in one of the most modern homes of today.

ALLISON BARNES FARMER

Allison entered Duke University in the fall of '28. In September, 1930 he went to Washington, D.C. to work.

August, 1931, Allison married Beatrice Strickland of Bailey, who was also working in Washington at Woodward and Lothrop's Department Store.

Their first child, a son, Larry, was born in '41. Two years later a daughter, Faye, was born.

Since '33 Allison has been employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company. He states that this has been the most fascinating work he has ever done. At present he is Central Office foreman of the Georgia-Randolph-Taylor Exchange of the Washington system and supervises 21 men who service 26,000 telephones.

He and his family now reside in Silver Springs, Maryland, and are building a new home near Rockville, Maryland, where they plan to live after March, 1948.

MARY FARMER MCGINTY

Graduating in '28, Mary continued her education at Greensboro College. In the fall of '32 she began her teaching career.

On October 16, '37, she married Luther Jackson McGinty. The first year after marriage the couple lived in Atlanta, Georgia. As Mr. McGinty is the Southern manager of Nyanza Color and Chemical Company, the McGintys moved from Georgia to Charlotte in order to be more centrally

HELEN FINCH McNEELY

In the fall of '28 Helen entered Woman's College, Greensboro, N. C. She entered ASTC in the summer of '29, where she attended until graduation. Afterwards she taught school at Coopers, N. C.

She married V. M. McNeely, a former teacher in BHS and principal of Mt. Pleasant High School. McRoberts, Kentucky, became her home in '32 where she lived and taught school for three years. The couple moved to Collettsville, N. C., in '35. She was a member of the school faculty in Collettsville, where her husband served as principal.

At present Helen teaches the fifth grade at Hildebran, N. C., and her husband serves as principal of the school.

MAE FARMER ADKINS

Mae, who went in training as a nurse after completing high school, graduated from the Woodard Herring Hospital, passed the State Board of Nursing, and became a registered nurse in '33.

In '36 she married Joseph Edward Adkins from Wilson. She is the mother of three sons ages 10, 8, and 2. Mr. Adkins is an insurance salesman. The couple make their home in Wilson, N. C.

located in his working territory.

Two sons, William Farmer, (Bill) six, and David Jackson, three, are additions to the family.