

HERE AND NOW

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS will begin December 19 and end December 30.

From the play, "THE MINISTER'S AUNT," presented by the Methodist Young People, approximately $81 was collected from ads, door receipts, and a cake walk.

NEW LOCKERS will be put in the upstairs hall. They will be built against the wall and made to look like the wall.

The school filled 19 RED CROSS boxes for overseas relief. Mrs. Rudolph Glover's first and second grade, Miss Linda Vann's first grade, Miss Wilma Johnson's freshmen, and Mrs. A. H. Farmer's sophomores filled two boxes each.

There has been a new coating of tar and burlap put on the ROOF of the school. Twenty barrells of tar and 15 rolls of burlap were used.

PICTURES shown at school in the past two or three weeks are Care of the Eyes, People of China, How to Study, People of the Congo, Treasure Island, Control of Bleeding, Electrons on Parade, Safety in the Home, and several films on biology, general business and commercial geography.

Under the supervision of M. W. WEAVER, instructor, the biology class has grown a paramecium, a one-celled animal.

County Supplies Films
For Schools' Use

So that students may learn more about their subjects by the eye presentation, the Nash County Film Library furnishes films for all schools in the county.

Some of the more recent films to be shown were Seeds of Destiny, Care of the Eyes, Control of Bleeding, How to Study, Safety in the Home, and different films on first aid. Most of the high school recently saw a picture of Treasure Island.

The motion picture is one form of the new trend in audio-visual education.

Classes Suffer
From Decreased Enrollment

Classes decrease because of marriage and changing schools. Senior class loses three; freshman class, two.

Joyce Brantley leaves the senior class to join the Middlesex seniors.

Dropping out of school for marriage are Marie Williams, who married Walter Harris, and Billie Freeman Vick, who plans to wed Johnnie Nichols during the holidays.

Betty Joyce Bailey, freshman, has married Glover Nines; Rudolph Pittman leaves the class for no particular reason.

It's True, But Who Knew?

That North Carolina pays more federal tax than any other state in the Union except New York?

That it is generally believed that Christmas was first observed in the beginning of the third century by Clement of Alexandria?

That the Chinese have no alphabet? That each word is represented by a single symbol or character?

That Robert Louis Stevenson was educated as an engineer, and that he studied law before he became famous as an author?

That in spite of its sizeable crop of 700,000,000 pounds of peanuts the United States imports 7,000,000 pounds.
