

The Past Comes To Date

CLASS OF '30

agriculture teacher for veterans.

"I look with pride upon the school days at Bailey and send thanks to all the many good instructors I had. Now I am looking forward to the day when my daughter graduates from the same school," writes Hallie Mae.

JESSIE FINCH DANIEL

After she finished high school, Jessie went to Louisburg College and then to ETC, Greenville, North Carolina.

On November 27, 1934, she married John W. Daniel, from Elm City, who is a farmer.

Jessie is the mother of two children, Johnny, 11, and Helen Finch, 6.

GLADYS BAINES MOORE

For several years after graduation Gladys taught music.

In '36, she married Guy Moore, a Baptist minister. After marriage the couple lived in Lowiston, N. C., where they resided until Mr. Moore went to Louisville, Ky., to study in the Baptist Seminary for three years. When he graduated, the Moores immediately moved to Nashville, N. C. Mr. Moore was pastor of the Baptist Church there for two years.

May, '47, Wilmington, N. C., became their new home, where the husband is pastor of the Southside Baptist Church.

One daughter, Patricia Lynn, eight months old, is the only child.

GARNER SANDERS

Garner attended King's Business College in Raleigh. For about two years afterwards he worked in a grocery store and then began working on tobacco markets. Work on the markets has been in Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

During the war Garner was in service for four years and two months, nineteen of which were spent overseas.

Since receiving a discharge from the army, he is continuing his work on the tobacco markets.

On February 15, 1947, Garner married Edna Earle Kirby of Princeton, N. C.

At present, he is living at Smithfield, N. C.

LUCINDA BOYKIN RACKLEY

On March 12, '33, Lucinda was married to Elton W. Rackley. Mr. Rackley is the Dodge and Plymouth dealer, Wilson, N. C.

She has one daughter, Barbara Gail, age 9.

In October, '47, Lucinda opened an antique shop in the servants' quarters of her garage.

Wilson has been her home since '30.

EIMA EATMON DASHLEY

In the fall of '30, Elma went in training at a medical college, Richmond, Va. She became the bride of Oscar Beasley, of Bailey, in '32.

Londell June, the first child, was born in '33. A son, Jameth Kenneth, joined the family in '44.

Oscar is a section foreman on the railroad. The couple, who have spent most of their married life in Middlesex, N. C., now live in McCullers, N. C.

BEULAH MATTHEWS WHITLEY

Soon after graduation Beulah's father died, and she remained at home with her mother.

In '35 she married Luther Whitley of Norfolk and Wilson. The couple lived in Wilson county for several months and then moved to Beulah's mother's.

Mr. Whitley is a farmer and carpenter.

One son, Robert Henry, age 8, is a third grader at BHS.

Beulah says that she has enjoyed taking part in community activities.

MOZELLE FINCH McMILLAN

For one year after graduation Mozelle attended Woman's College in Greensboro where she studied music. She married E. Preston McMillan of Raleigh who is a barber. The McMillans have lived in Raleigh since marriage.

Mozelle has three children: Jay, 13, Rex, 10, and Lynn, 7.

One morning each week Mozelle helps a neighbor with her kindergarten music. Two afternoons each week she teaches piano lessons to neighbors' children.

The only member that was not heard from was Pattie Lee Cozart Lamm.