

JAY BROWN

This class is famous for its brother--brother of sister--brother teams. Sharing Fords seems to be a characteristic of these teams. Jay and his brother Wallace pal around together on theirs. For two years Jay has driven bus 39 over Gaulberry's red, rocky hills. Those hills have gripped him, for there he plans to remain as a farmer.

DELTON R. GLOVER

Delton's portrayal of the typical business man in the senior play best typifies the opinion of the class regarding his future. His dependability and cheerfulness will stand him in good stead.

LESTER PACE

Seniors, we'd better watch out! Lester reports he's going to be a highway patrolman. One of these days he is likely to come pulling up beside us and, in his quiet way but with broad smile, hand us a ticket for speeding.

C. H. MANNING

This senior, "Bookie", as everyone knows him best, has a pleasing personality and is liked by everyone. He was an F.F.A. member for three years and a member of Bailey's basketball team during his junior and senior years. He's the one senior most often sporting a tie. C. H. is undecided about his future.

SCOTT LEWIS

"It's got so," "boo-li-bebop" are phrases that

OMAX PACE

OMax, better known as, "Wolly" to his friends, loves Fords, squirrel hunting, and evidently the soil, for OMax intends to farm after graduation.

He joined our class in our sophomore year, coming from Bragtown School, Durham. Since then, he and his brother Lester have been running the farm for their Mother and attending school at the same time. Evidently they have done well, for a diploma and a New Ford all in the same spring are more than most of us can boast of.

are as natural to one senior as eating every morning. Who could this "wizard" of English be? Of course it's the one and only Scott "Krupa" Lewis. Scott, a drum, enthusiast, a choir member, and a glee club member is such a versatile fellow that it would take all day to describe his talents. The above adjective is very descriptive, but there's one that everyone will say aye to; that is, Scott is always a friend in need.

MARY JUNE BRANTLEY

Mary June is known as that tall guard on the girl's B.H.S. basketball squad. "Dugs," so called by many of her friends, is planning to enter Rex Hospital next year. There she hopes to play ball with the Rex team. Her pet delights are joking and eating. We shall wait to see her owning a Cadillac.
