

BETTIE JEAN LAMM

Whenever we will be recalling Waltz Time, we will think of Lilac, so well portrayed by Bettie Jean. Happy and good-natured and willing are the adjectives best descriptive of this senior. These attributes should help her get that looked-forward-to job after graduation.

LENZIE MORGAN

"Silence is golden", we are told. In this case the gold is acquired knowledge that has brought Lenzie the highest honor of the senior year--Valedictorian. In his freshman year he was the lone "wolf" among all the girls who attended the Press Association in New York. As class treasurer this year Lenzie has done a perfect job of keeping track of every penny.

MAVIS STONE

Sports and flowers vie with one another for first place in Mavis's interests. For two years she has been on the basketball team. Whether it will be schooling again next year Mavis isn't certain, but we feel sure that she will be doing something useful.

WALLACE BROWN

It was in the play "Waltz Time" that this young, refined chap amazed everybody by revealing his hidden talent--that of singing. His Ford has given him a love for riding the highways. As a result, he intends to be a highway patrolman.

The seniors better be ware!

Senior's Musical Comedy Receives Praise

DEOTHA GLOVER

This attractive blue-eyed, brown-haired, senior with light hearted ways is well-liked by all the students. Most Dependable is the superlative honor awarded her. Who else could have played Mrs. Stevens better in our senior play? Collecting pennies is her hobby. She says, "Graduation will be the most delightful thing that has ever happened in my life."

BARBARA FARMER

If you should happen to see a short, dumpy, brown-eyed lass with an honest face covered with a smile, you would be without error in addressing her as Barbara Farmer. If you want a job done well, call on this senior. This last trait may account for her having become the Salutatorian of her class.

EARL EARP

A lady's man--that is smiling Earl. Throughout high school F.F.A. activities have been his greatest interests. He will continue to pursue these interests as he settles down to become a real farmer on his own.

CORINNA WILLIAMS

Underneath Corinna's quiet modesty lurks a determination and will of her own. She's among the A students in her class and is good enough in English to pinch hit for Mrs. Farmer sometimes. Corinna hopes to attend a business school next fall.

Waltz Time, a musical comedy, was presented by the seniors of Bailey High, October 18.

All members of the senior class had a definite part in the play. Those who did not have leading roles sang in the ensemble.

Starring in the main roles, were Leo Horner as Kirby Stevens and Jean B. Glover as Sue Oliver.

Other characters were portrayed by Bettie J. Lamm, Deotha Glover, Earl Earp, Jean Pace, Derl Pace, Barbara Farmer, Bobby Barnes, Louise Eatmon, Mildred Finch, Anna L. Johnson, Scott Lewis, and Delton Glover.

Two of the most outstanding songs were "It's the Men" sang by Jean F. Glover and "Waltz Me Till I'm Dizzy" by Jean and Derl Pace.

The director, Mrs. Howard Farmer, was assisted with the music by Mrs. I. T. Poole and Mrs. Helen Murray.

Waltz Time was the first musical comedy ever presented as a senior class play. By the reception given the performance, the audience liked the new type of entertainment, as well as the seniors.

The story is centered around young Kirby Stevens, who has musical talent. Sue Oliver, recognizing his ability, never ceases to give encouragement.
