

FIFTH, SIXTH, AND SEVENTH GRADES

RAIN

The rain was falling down, It fell hard upon the ground.

It fell thick and fast,
And lifted up the blades of grass.

The frogs chirped merrily
in the rain,
As it danced on my window pane.

SWIMMING POOL

Every day after school we race to the swimming pool.

Swimming is such fun,
after the day's work is done.

The race begins with a dive; in we go two,
four, five.

Around we go, swimming for an hour; Then out we come as fresh as a flower.

CLASS DESIGNS, DRESSES

PIGS FOR PROJECT

In Miss Harper's sixth and seventh grades, we decided to make some pigs.
We made our pigs in a very unusual way. Everyone in the room brought cotton and wire. On the next day we started our pigs. We shaped them with wire.

Then we put cotton on them and wrapped them with crepe paper. The next day we colored them with leg make-up. Everyone in the room made one. We took them home and made them clothes. Our pigs looked really cute after they were dressed--some wearing overalls--and some wearing dresses. Some of the boys in the class made our pigs a house so that we could fix a scene. We had fun making the pigs.

PUPILS HELP SOLVE

RAINY DAY PROBLEMS

The sixth grade has had fun making puzzles and game boards during activity periods. These have served a two fold purpose, for the members of the class use them during recreation periods on rainy days. Some of the pupils have made game boards and puzzles to take home for the family to enjoy. Checkers seem to be the favorite game.

SIXTH GRADE PLANS

The pupils of the sixth grade are looking forward to a bright sunny Thursday in April when they expect to make the sixth-grade's
annual trip to Raleigh.
The state institutions, historical places, radio station, and other places of interest will be visited during the day. They are expecting the grade mothers to accompany them.
